Reds Open Wall To W. Berliners

Great Yuletide Reunion Begins Ahead Of Time

BERLIN (AP) — The great Christmas reunion of Berlin families separated for more than two years by the Red wall began Thursday.

Loaded with festively packed gifts, and armed with precious permits allowing a one-day visit, people moved through gaps in the wall to bring Christmas cheer to relatives they had not seen since August 1961.

There was, for example, Peter Klaus, 28, a clothing designer. Clutching boxes of candy, a bag of fruit—very scarce in the east—coffee and a bottle of liquor, he set off to see his grandparents, Fritz and Anna Klaus, both in their 80s.

Vanguard Of Human Flood

Although the operation does not officially begin until Friday, East German guards on the Oberbaum Bridge smilingly let him pass.

It was just a trickle Thursday of joyful people — maybe not more than 40. They had to be back in the West by midnight, like so many Cinderellas.

A gigantic human flood of tens of thousands will begin Friday.

The premature start of the operation took officials on both sides of the wall by surprise.

The official regulation was that the first permits would be valid only Friday at 7 a.m. West Berlin police were taken aback at the sudden appearance of border crossers Thursday afternoon. But they did not hinder them.

Mixup, News Agency Says

The official East German news agency ADN said the report people were crossing was incorrect, possibly a mixup over people unconnected with the Christmas reunion.

But the East guards accepted the permits the West Berliners cheerfully waved. Some persons said they had especially asked for permits dated Thursday although they knew they would not get them until afternoon, thus cutting short their visiting time.

It All Was A Big Surprise

West Berliner Marlene Jung (right), 31, gives Christmas gifts to her Aunt Martha and Uncle Paul in their East Berlin home yesterday after arrival on a surprise visit to see her relatives. Marlene was able to visit them for the first time in nearly 2½ years as a result of special permission by Communist authorities, allowing authorized West Berliners to cross into the Soviet sector of the city for one day. Marlene's gifts—all listed on East Berlin custom forms—included scarce items such as fresh fruit, coffee, cigarettes and shoes. (AP Photofax)

Soviets Try To Hush Up Racial Riot

Russian Policemen Block Approaches To Ghana Embassy

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet leaders made plain Thursday they didn't like their first real public taste of Negro-white racial problems.

Fur-hatted Soviet policemen blockaded approaches to the Ghanaian Embassy, reported damaged in Wednesday's demonstration by about 500 angry African students.

Loudspeakers blared orders to keep moving when curious Russians paused to see what the fuss was about. The Russians obediently kept moving.

Censorship Imposed

Domestically, censorship had suppressed everything about the Africans' demonstration—a protest against the death of a Ghanaian medical student. The protest ended in scuffles with police and angry words in Red Square under the walls of the Kremlin. Soviet papers printed not a line about it.

Westerners have felt for some time there was growing tension socially between Russians and the Negroes, recruited from various African nations for university training and indoctrination in communism. Awareness of latent animosity may have prompted the decision to keep the news from Russian readers.

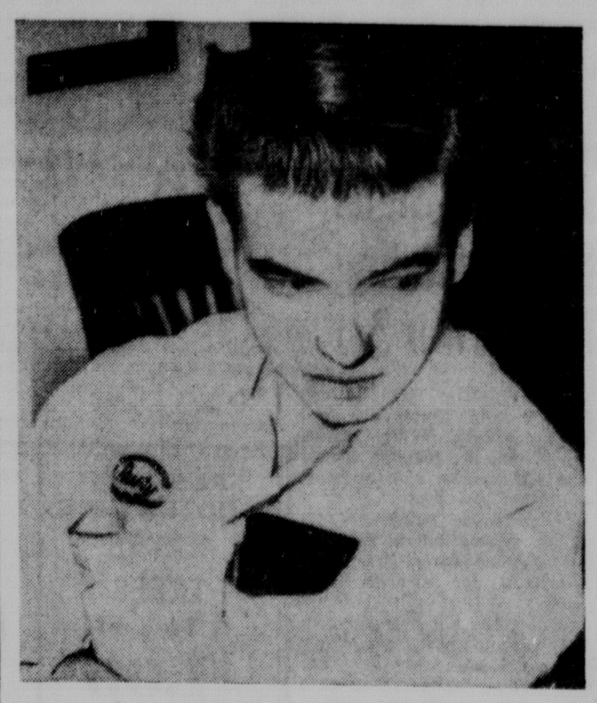
Envoy Reports Damage

Questioned by telephone, Ghanaian Ambassador John B. Elliott said chairs, locks and pictures had been damaged when a large gang of students crowded into the building before their march to Red Square.

The Africans were protesting the death of Edmund Asare Addo, 29, who was found dead and buried in the snow in 11-below weather last Friday near the Moscow-Kalinin railway line just outside the capital.

Many of the students declared Addo had been stabbed to death because he wanted to marry a Russian girl. They paraded banners comparing the Soviet Union to Alabama.

Soviet authorities denied he was killed. They said he was drunk and froze to deatth.



"Joke," He Says

Russell Wence McLarry, 21, was charged in Fort Worth, Tex., yesterday with threatening the life of the late President Kennedy. The Arlington State College student allegedly made threatening remarks the day before Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas. McLarry said "I don't remember exactly what I said. The statement I made was a joke." (AP Photofax)

'Glad' Kennedy Slain

Texas Student Held In JFK Death Threat

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — A sullen part-time college student, quoted by the Secret Service as saying he was "Proud—no, glad" that an assassin killed President John F. Kennedy, was charged Thursday with threatening Kennedy's life.

The youth, Russell Wence McLarry, 21, sat poker-faced as he was arraigned, ordered held for the grand jury, and placed under $2,500 bond.

McLarry is a night student at Arlington State College, where bitterly anti-Kennedy literature was found the morning before Kennedy was shot Nov. 22 in Dallas.

The college, one of the largest in Texas, is midway between Fort Worth and Dallas.

The complaint, filed by the Secret Service, charges that:

"On Nov. 21 he made certain threats to take the life of and to inflict bodily harm upon John F. Kennedy, then the president of the United States, by stating in substance that he would be working near the Trade Mart in Dallas, Tex., where the president was supposed to speak, and that he would be waiting with a gun to get the president."

The Trade Mart is about three miles from the spot in Dallas where Kennedy was hit by two bullets fired from the sixth floor of the Texas School Book Depository Building.

McLarry asked for a preliminary hearing and was granted one before U.S. Commissioner Bill Atkins shortly after his arrest.

Charles E. Kunkel, Secret Service special agent, testified that McLarry told him that "he was not sorry the president was killed. He said he was proud—no, glad—that the president had been killed."

Kunkel testified that McLarry said, "The president was responsible for the condition this country is in."

McLarry himself told the commissioner, "I don't remember exactly what I said. The statement I made was a joke. If I can be tried for a joke and found guilty—well, that's the extent of it."

He was asked if he was on the job when Kennedy was assassinated.

McLarry declared, "I most definitely was."

When Atkins set bond at $2,500, McLarry commented: "I can't make it. I couldn't make $100, much less $2,500."

Shuns House Ban On Credit Sales To Reds

$3.2 Billion Voted 60-25; Conferees Will Meet Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Thursday night passed a $3,272,500,000 foreign aid money bill after rejecting a House ban on government guarantees of bank financing for wheat and other commodity sales to Communist nations.

The action sent the controversial bill to a conference with the House where efforts will be made to adjust differences in time to enable Congress to begin a Christmas adjournment this weekend.

The House quickly agreed to a conference and named members to meet with Senate representatives Friday.

Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., who will head the group, told the House the conferees were ready to meet early Friday and the House agreed to consider the compromise measure as soon as it comes from the conferees.

House Voted $2.8 Billion

The removal of the House effort to bar credit sales of any U.S. commodities to Russia and other Red nations raised one serious obstacle to early compromise.

In addition, the bill restores $470,803,000 of an $800,375,000 House cut in foreign aid funds.

The Senate roll call vote on final passage was 60-25.

The final total in the Senate bill was $3,272,500,000, as against the $2,801,700,000 in the House version. The late President John F. Kennedy originally requested $4.5 billion and Congress authorized a ceiling of $3.6 billion.

The Senate vote against the credit restriction followed a last minute appeal by President Johnson against embodying it in the legislation.

The House voted 218-169 to prohibit the Export-Import Bank from guaranteeing repayment of credits extended by private banks for wheat or other commodities sold to Russia or any other Communist nation.

Committee Upheld 52-32

The Senate Appropriations Committee rejected the House amendment and the Senate upheld the committee by a roll call vote of 52-32.

Johnson's views were set forth in a letter read shortly before the vote by Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana.

Asserting that the sale of wheat and other farm goods to Communist nations are "good for the country," the President said: "It makes no sense to jeopardize these possible gains by this legislative rider."

Johnson said the proposed restriction "would jeopardize not only the possible sale of wheat to the Soviet Union but sales of other important commodities, like tobacco, corn and cotton, to a number of Communist countries."

Administration forces repelled a series of efforts to cut the foreign aid program.

Hopes Fading For Successful 'Star' Launch

POINT ARGUELLO, Calif (AP) — The United States sent into orbit Thursday a satellite it hoped would bloom into a "Christmas star." But two hours after launch word came that the blossoming was in doubt.

A national space agency spokesman said that on the second orbital pass no radio signals were received from that part of the orbital package supposed to unfold into a reflective orb.

It was hoped the shining sphere would be visible during the holiday season — and for three to five years afterward—wherever around the globe its orbit and twilight coincided.

This was the sequence: Twenty-eight minutes after the 10:49 a.m. launch from this naval missile facility an orbiting cannister was to eject a package which would inflate into a 12-foot-diameter aluminum and plastic sphere, covered with polka dots.

A tracking station at South Point, Hawaii, received radio signals from both cannister and package, indicating an orbit.

A tracking station in South Africa then reported that on the second pass it received signals from the cannister only.

At this point, a space agency spokesman said this could mean either that the package failed to achieve a stable orbit, or its radio filed.

The final word on success was to be by photograph of the inflated orb from the South Africa station.

Two Guardsmen Accused In Blast At U. Of Alabama

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — Two federalized Alabama National Guardsmen were arrested Thursday on charges of setting off an explosion in November near a hall where a Negro student lives at the University of Alabama.

It was one of three blasts between Nov. 16-19 which rocked an area just off the campus not far from the room occupied by Vivian Malone. No one was hurt.

Police identified the guardsmen as:

Second Lt. James T. Perkins, 27, of Holt, Ala., and Cpl. James T. Maxwell, 27, of Tuscaloosa, who was arrested later Thursday and held under $5,000 bond.

Perkins was employed at a paper mill company in Holt, a small community northeast of Tuscaloosa, when he was taken into custody.

Sukarno Says Even U.S. Fleet Won't Stop Him

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno declared that not even the presence of the powerful U.S. 7th Fleet in the Indian Ocean can sway him from his course of destroying neighboring Malaysia.

"We will never be afraid of the fleet," he told a rally Thursday in Jakarta, referring to press reports that the 7th Fleet soon may expand operations into the Indian Ocean. "Let there be two or three such U.S. fleets. We will continue to crush Malaysia."

The tentative plan to send some 7th Fleet units into the ocean generally is considered as a move to stay Red China's hand if it is plotting a new attack on India.

But Indonesians see it as an attempt to make them call off their hostile confrontation of Malaysia. The United States welcomed the creation of British-backed Malaysia.

"Up until now I still don't know whether the fleet has entered the Indonesian Ocean," Sukarno said. He always calls the Indian Ocean the Indonesian Ocean, as do most of his countrymen.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, told reporters before leaving New Delhi, India, earlier in the day that no decision has yet been reached.

Soviets Bolster China Frontier

LONDON (AP) — Secret reports reaching Western governments from Moscow say there has been a sizeable shift recently of Soviet army units toward the Communist Chinese frontier.

Receipt of these reports was acknowledged in Paris and London in the past few days by high officials of several important Atlantic pact powers.

According to informed officials, the eastward movement of Soviet troops was detected—and reported—in October. One senior diplomat described the shift as having been moderate in size.

The Soviet troops, according to these informants, were understood to be heading toward the frontier of Red China's Sinkiang Province. No indication was given, however, of new tensions in that area.

Western governments, nevertheless, are aware that over the past two years at least there has been serious trouble between the two giant Communist neighbors in and around Sinkiang.

Rusk Ends Allied Tour

LONDON (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk wound up a pre-Christmas diplomatic swing aimed at steering the Western Allies toward a cautious re-examination of the cliches of the cold war.

Rusk's object is to keep probing for new agreements with the Soviet Union and thus maintain the momentum obtained with the limited nuclear test treaty.

American sources said Rusk was heartened by the outcome of the Atlantic alliance ministerial conference in Paris earlier this week and by intensive London talks with Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and British Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler.

Rusk left for Washington with the feeling of having conducted useful business with America's allies, American sources said.

President Johnson's administration favors taking a hard look at all the aspects and problems of the cold war. The assumption is that 15 years of rigidity have produced few solutions of world problems and that maybe a new look at the problems from the Western side and a reasonable attitude from the Soviet side would bring solutions closer.

LBJ Daughter's Dorm Picketed

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) —Twenty students picketed Lynda Bird Johnson's dormitory at the University of Texas Thursday night because it is racially segregated.

All other coed dormitories at the university also are segregated.

Bill Spearman of Houston, spokesman for the pickets, said the demonstration was not intended as a personal reflection on the 19-year-old daughter of President Johnson.

He said her hall, Kinsolving Dormitory, was chosen "to bring attention to the fact that there is still segregation at the university."

Secret Service men, Austin and university police stood by but took no action. The demonstration was orderly.

Defense Chief, U.S. Officials Meet In Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara opened talks Thursday with senior U.S. officials, who are expected to urge him to tell the military junta to spend more time on the war with the Communist guerrillas and less on politics.

McNamara arrived from Paris at a time when the Viet Cong guerrillas are overruning Vietnamese military outposts and threatening to bring the war virtually to the gates of Saigon itself.

"If things don't get moving in 90 days we are lost," declared one U.S. official.

Qualified informants said McNamara probably can find plenty of reasons to revise plans to pull out the 16,000 U.S. military personnel by the end of 1965.

That was the basis of a report McNamara made to the late President John F. Kennedy after his last visit to Saigon in September. One thousand U.S. personnel moved out this month.

Demo Huddle Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A meeting of the Democratic National Committee was postponed Thursday from Jan. 4 to Jan. 11.

The committee will hear from committees on the allocation of delegates and arrangements for the party's nominating convention in Atlantic City Aug. 24. These committees will meet Jan. 10.

Last Of Quints Will Go Home

ABERDEEN, S.D. (UPI) — All of the Fischer quintuplets will be home for Christmas. Mary Ann and Mary Catherine will leave the hospital Saturday, officials said Thursday.

They are the last two of the five babies born to Mrs. Andrew Fischer still at St. Luke's Hospital. Their brother, James Andrew, went home first. Their sisters, Mary Magdalene and Mary Margaret, went home Saturday, two weeks later.

The quints were born Sept. 14, the first to survive in the United States.

A hospital spokesman said last week that all four of the girls could have gone home Saturday but that Mrs. Fischer needed time to adjust to having so many babies around the house.

Judge Bars All Cameras From Ruby Murder Trial

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Judge Joe B. Brown has barred all cameras from the murder trial of Jack Ruby.

Ruby is scheduled to go to trial Feb. 3 for killing Lee Harvey Oswald, accused as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Hundreds of reporters are expected to seek space in Dist. Judge Brown's tiny courtroom, which seats about 60.

Brown's handling of trial coverage arrangements brought criticism Thursday from Clayton Fowler, president of the Dallas Criminal Bar Association.

"Any time a public event cannot be handled by the public press there is something amiss," said Fowler. "I wouldn't say there is anything wrong, but it is just not right.

"When you start saying this newsman can cover the trial and this man can't, there's something wrong with the setup. It is a dangerous situation for a public official in the trial of a criminal case to use a public relations agency for the trial coverage."

Brown accepted the volunteer services of a public relations-advertising firm to act as an intermediary between the judge and newsmen.

The judge, speaking through the agency, said, "No television equipment, no radio recording equipment and no cameras for still photographs will be permitted in the courtroom while the court is in session."

Plane Swerves, Kills Two Auto Occupants

BENTWATERS, England (AP)—An F101 Voodoo fighter of the U.S. 81st Tactical Fighter Wing swerved off the runway Thursday, killing two American occupants of an automobile parked on the taxiway.

An air policeman directing traffic on the taxi strip was hurt. The pilot of the plane was rushed to a hospital for observation.

Student's 2,300-Pound Cookie Wins Contest, $3,749 In Cash

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Take about a ton of ingredients, and some ingenuity and an unsuspecting radio station and there is the granddaddy of Christmas cookies.

Paul Goodman, a sophomore at Bethel College, turned the trick with a 2,300-pound wafer that won him $3,749 in a contest sponsored by radio station KDWB.

The station offered $1.63 a pound for the biggest Christmas cookie produced by a listener. A commercial bakery came up with a 60-pounder, and inmates at the Minnesota Reformatory put together a 170-pounder, but they were pikers.

Goodman and some college helpers spent most of Monday and Tuesday turning out 5-pound slabs of cookie — more than 200 of them. Then, they mixed a giant batch of frosting and cemented the whole mass together in the back of a pickup truck.

Goodman, the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Rodger W. Goodman of San Jose, Calif., sold $1 shares to classmates to raise the money for ingredients.

"I got the idea last Thursday night, but my roommate told me to go back to sleep," the youth said.

He said he planned the share-selling scheme with a promise of double-your-money if he won, or a big party to eat up the cookie if he lost. He's in hock for $450 for ingredients, $255 for stockholder profits, but still can pocket a neat sum to complete his education.

19 Perish As Cold Wave Numbs Most Of Country

By The Associated Press

A mass of arctic air numbed most of the nation Thursday while scattered, heavy snow and thickening ice crippled transportation.

Deaths attributed to the severe weather numbered 19.

State tolls included: Kentucky 5, Indiana 4, Michigan 4, Massachusetts 3, Alabama 1, Tennessee 1, Missouri 1.

At least a foot of snow piled up in three hours in an area south of Buffalo, N.Y. Sixty-six miles of the New York State Thruway in that district were closed to incoming traffic.

A storm left 14 inches of snow on Nantucket Island off the Massachusetts coast and nine inches on Falmouth on Cape Cod. Many schools suspended classes.

Squalls off Lake Erie dumped 9½ inches of snow on Oswego, N.Y.

Snow drifting over back roads kept 3,800 children from school in Erie County, Pa.

Westhampton on Long Island, N.Y., measured eight inches of snow.

A record December snowfall ended in Muskegon, Mich., leaving 33 inches of snow on the ground. Wind-fanned snow reduced visibility along the Michigan shore from Holland to Benton Harbor.

The frigid air that enveloped the land from the Rockies to the Atlantic caused widespread suffering in temperatures that ranged down to -24 in Bemidji, Minn.

A herd of 130 cattle was lost on a sand island in the Missouri River near Kennebec, S.D. The animals, trapped by rising water after wandering to the sandbar, died of the cold, drowned or were shot by the owner. They balked at swimming to shore through a channel chopped and blasted through a three-inch ice crust.

The -12 in Rockford, Ill., and the -11 in Peoria, Ill., broke records for the date.

It was one of three blasts between Nov. 16-19 which rocked an area just off the campus not far from the room occupied by Vivian Malone. No one was hurt.

Police identified the guardsmen as:

Second Lt. James T. Perkins, 27, of Holt, Ala., and Cpl. James T. Maxwell, 27, of Tuscaloosa, who was arrested later Thursday and held under $5,000 bond.

Perkins was employed at a paper mill company in Holt, a small community northeast of Tuscaloosa, when he was taken into custody.

Defense Chief, U.S. Officials Meet In Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara opened talks Thursday with senior U.S. officials, who are expected to urge him to tell the military junta to spend more time on the war with the Communist guerrillas and less on politics.

McNamara arrived from Paris at a time when the Viet Cong guerrillas are overruning Vietnamese military outposts and threatening to bring the war virtually to the gates of Saigon itself.

"If things don't get moving in 90 days we are lost," declared one U.S. official.

Qualified informants said McNamara probably can find plenty of reasons to revise plans to pull out the 16,000 U.S. military personnel by the end of 1965.

That was the basis of a report McNamara made to the late President John F. Kennedy after his last visit to Saigon in September. One thousand U.S. personnel moved out this month.

Sukarno Says Even U.S. Fleet Won't Stop Him

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno declared that not even the presence of the powerful U.S. 7th Fleet in the Indian Ocean can sway him from his course of destroying neighboring Malaysia.

"We will never be afraid of the fleet," he told a rally Thursday in Jakarta, referring to press reports that the 7th Fleet soon may expand operations into the Indian Ocean. "Let there be two or three such U.S. fleets. We will continue to crush Malaysia."

The tentative plan to send some 7th Fleet units into the ocean generally is considered as a move to stay Red China's hand if it is plotting a new attack on India.

But Indonesians see it as an attempt to make them call off their hostile confrontation of Malaysia. The United States welcomed the creation of British-backed Malaysia.

"Up until now I still don't know whether the fleet has entered the Indonesian Ocean," Sukarno said. He always calls the Indian Ocean the Indonesian Ocean, as do most of his countrymen.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, told reporters before leaving New Delhi, India, earlier in the day that no decision has yet been reached.

Demo Huddle Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A meeting of the Democratic National Committee was postponed Thursday from Jan. 4 to Jan. 11.

The committee will hear from committees on the allocation of delegates and arrangements for the party's nominating convention in Atlantic City Aug. 24. These committees will meet Jan. 10.

Soviets Bolster China Frontier

LONDON (AP) — Secret reports reaching Western governments from Moscow say there has been a sizeable shift recently of Soviet army units toward the Communist Chinese frontier.

Receipt of these reports was acknowledged in Paris and London in the past few days by high officials of several important Atlantic pact powers.

According to informed officials, the eastward movement of Soviet troops was detected—and reported—in October. One senior diplomat described the shift as having been moderate in size.

The Soviet troops, according to these informants, were understood to be heading toward the frontier of Red China's Sinkiang Province. No indication was given, however, of new tensions in that area.

Western governments, nevertheless, are aware that over the past two years at least there has been serious trouble between the two giant Communist neighbors in and around Sinkiang.

Rusk Ends Allied Tour

LONDON (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk wound up a pre-Christmas diplomatic swing aimed at steering the Western Allies toward a cautious re-examination of the cliches of the cold war.

Rusk's object is to keep probing for new agreements with the Soviet Union and thus maintain the momentum obtained with the limited nuclear test treaty.

American sources said Rusk was heartened by the outcome of the Atlantic alliance ministerial conference in Paris earlier this week and by intensive London talks with Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and British Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler.

Rusk left for Washington with the feeling of having conducted useful business with America's allies, American sources said.

President Johnson's administration favors taking a hard look at all the aspects and problems of the cold war. The assumption is that 15 years of rigidity have produced few solutions of world problems and that maybe a new look at the problems from the Western side and a reasonable attitude from the Soviet side would bring solutions closer.

Judge Bars All Cameras From Ruby Murder Trial

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Judge Joe B. Brown has barred all cameras from the murder trial of Jack Ruby.

Ruby is scheduled to go to trial Feb. 3 for killing Lee Harvey Oswald, accused as the assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

Hundreds of reporters are expected to seek space in Dist. Judge Brown's tiny courtroom, which seats about 60.

Brown's handling of trial coverage arrangements brought criticism Thursday from Clayton Fowler, president of the Dallas Criminal Bar Association.

"Any time a public event cannot be handled by the public press there is something amiss," said Fowler. "I wouldn't say there is anything wrong, but it is just not right.

"When you start saying this newsman can cover the trial and this man can't, there's something wrong with the setup. It is a dangerous situation for a public official in the trial of a criminal case to use a public relations agency for the trial coverage."

Brown accepted the volunteer services of a public relations-advertising firm to act as an intermediary between the judge and newsmen.

The judge, speaking through the agency, said, "No television equipment, no radio recording equipment and no cameras for still photographs will be permitted in the courtroom while the court is in session."

Plane Swerves, Kills Two Auto Occupants

BENTWATERS, England (AP)—An F101 Voodoo fighter of the U.S. 81st Tactical Fighter Wing swerved off the runway Thursday, killing two American occupants of an automobile parked on the taxiway.

An air policeman directing traffic on the taxi strip was hurt. The pilot of the plane was rushed to a hospital for observation.

Student's 2,300-Pound Cookie Wins Contest, $3,749 In Cash

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Take about a ton of ingredients, and some ingenuity and an unsuspecting radio station and there is the granddaddy of Christmas cookies.

Paul Goodman, a sophomore at Bethel College, turned the trick with a 2,300-pound wafer that won him $3,749 in a contest sponsored by radio station KDWB.

The station offered $1.63 a pound for the biggest Christmas cookie produced by a listener. A commercial bakery came up with a 60-pounder, and inmates at the Minnesota Reformatory put together a 170-pounder, but they were pikers.

Goodman and some college helpers spent most of Monday and Tuesday turning out 5-pound slabs of cookie — more than 200 of them. Then, they mixed a giant batch of frosting and cemented the whole mass together in the back of a pick-up truck.

Goodman, the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Rodger W. Goodman of San Jose, Calif., sold $1 shares to classmates to raise the money for ingredients.

"I got the idea last Thursday night, but my roommate told me to go back to sleep," the youth said.

He said he planned the share-selling scheme with a promise of double-your-money if he won, or a big party to eat up the cookie if he lost. He's in hock for $450 for ingredients, $255 for stockholder profits, but still can pocket a neat sum to complete his education.

Last Of Quints Will Go Home

ABERDEEN, S.D. (UPI) — All of the Fischer quintuplets will be home for Christmas. Mary Ann and Mary Catherine will leave the hospital Saturday, officials said Thursday.

They are the last two of the five babies born to Mrs. Andrew Fischer still at St. Luke's Hospital. Their brother, James Andrew, went home first. Their sisters, Mary Magdalene and Mary Margaret, went home Saturday, two weeks later.

The quints were born Sept. 14, the first to survive in the United States.

A hospital spokesman said last week that all four of the girls could have gone home Saturday but that Mrs. Fischer needed time to adjust to having so many babies around the house.

19 Perish As Cold Wave Numbs Most Of Country

By The Associated Press

A mass of arctic air numbed most of the nation Thursday while scattered, heavy snow and thickening ice crippled transportation.

Deaths attributed to the severe weather numbered 19.

State tolls included: Kentucky 5, Indiana 4, Michigan 4, Massachusetts 3, Alabama 1, Tennessee 1, Missouri 1.

At least a foot of snow piled up in three hours in an area south of Buffalo, N.Y. Sixty-six miles of the New York State Thruway in that district were closed to incoming traffic.

A storm left 14 inches of snow on Nantucket Island off the Massachusetts coast and nine inches on Falmouth on Cape Cod. Many schools suspended classes.

Squalls off Lake Erie dumped 9½ inches of snow on Oswego, N.Y.

Snow drifting over back roads kept 3,800 children from school in Erie County, Pa.

Westhampton on Long Island, N.Y., measured eight inches of snow.

A record December snowfall ended in Muskegon, Mich., leaving 33 inches of snow on the ground. Wind-fanned snow reduced visibility along the Michigan shore from Holland to Benton Harbor.

The frigid air that enveloped the land from the Rockies to the Atlantic caused widespread suffering in temperatures that ranged down to -24 in Bemidji, Minn.

A herd of 130 cattle was lost on a sand island in the Missouri River near Kennebec, S.D. The animals, trapped by rising water after wandering to the sandbar, died of the cold, drowned or were shot by the owner. They balked at swimming to shore through a channel chopped and blasted through a three-inch ice crust.

The -12 in Rockford, Ill., and the -11 in Peoria, Ill., broke records for the date.

Festive Holiday Awaiting LBJ At Tex. Ranch

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—For a good many years there has been a common saying in this central Texas hill country that when Lyndon Baines Johnson does something, he does it in a big way.

That will hold true when President Johnson and his family return to the LBJ Ranch, 65 miles west of Austin, for Christmas, and possibly the New Year's holidays.

There will be lots of people, lots of food, and lots of talk.

"I'm going to relax a little," Johnson told newsmen in Washington. He said he would leave for Texas Sunday night "if God is willing and Mrs. Johnson is willing."

"Well, you have two changeables there," his 19-year-old daughter, Lynda, said Thursday when a reporter broke the news to her at the University of Texas. "Not changeables, but uncertainties."

Experience indicates there likely will be a gathering of the Johnson family at the ranch on Christmas Eve for a traditional exchange of gifts, and a turkey dinner on Christmas Day.

In previous years there has been a steady parade of neighbors and friends to the ranch on Christmas Day, some with small gifts, others just wanting to say "Merry Christmas" over a cup of eggnog.

The strict security patrol may cut down Christmas visitors, but if only the usual kinsmen appear for the Christmas Eve reunion there will be a sizeable crowd.

One Johnson City resident estimated as many as 30 brothers, sisters, aunts, cousins, nieces and nephews from both sides of the family usually attend.

Taylor To Open Karachi Talks

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived in Karachi Thursday for difficult talks on strains in the Pakistan-American alliance.

The atmosphere in advance of Taylor's meeting Friday with President Ayub Khan and Pakistani military leaders was tense.

The United States is seeking assurance from this country that it will not carry its friendliness with Peking too far.

Pakistan wants a Kashmir settlement or what Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto calls a "tangible assurance" that India will not attack Pakistan with Western arms. Taylor has just completed three days of talks with Indian officials.

Bhutto told The Associated Press he thought another round of talks on the political level would be needed.

He said officials on the two sides had "got over some humps" in two previous rounds of talks, but he feared a "chain of thought may have been interrupted."

The first two rounds were conducted by Undersecretary of State George Ball and other political officers on the American side in September and October.

Blaze Destroys Picasso Works

DETROIT (AP) — Art lovers sorrowed Thursday over the loss to fire of an estimated $300,000 in paintings and other art works, including Pablo Picasso creations.

The art, a gallery's collection, was destroyed in a half-million-dollar blaze in a downtown furniture store Wednesday night.

Oils by Picasso, along with engravings, lithographs and ceramics by the Spanish genius, were lost or damaged beyond restoration.

Also destroyed in the blaze at the Robinson Furniture Co. were scores of works of other artists.

Acquittal Or New Trial Asked By Grow

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Utah financier D. Spencer Grow, convicted last week in Federal District Court here of mail fraud, contended Thursday the proceedings were replete with errors and pressed for acquittal or a new trial.

In an 11-page motion filed with the District Court clerk, Grow's lawyer, Edward P. Morgan of Washington, said the jury verdict was rendered on insufficient evidence.

The entire trial, Morgan said, failed to achieve a "constitutional standard for the ascertainment of guilt."

Jane's Reports:

Soviet Navy's 'New Look' May Force U.S. Revisions

LONDON (AP)—"The United States still has the greatest navy the world has ever seen," but "the Soviet navy has a new look which must have a profound effect on naval thinking and planning on both sides of the Atlantic."

That is how the naval forces of the world's two biggest powers are sized up in the 1963-64 edition of the authoritative Jane's Fighting Ships, issued Friday.

Jane's said the world has more navies than ever before. It listed 96 and remarked that "some of these are no mere infants-in-arms but quite considerable fleets, notably those of Germany, Italy, Japan and Indonesia."

"It is somewhat ironical that while the navy of the mighty United States, the senior partner of the victorious Allies, is in danger of becoming top-heavy with the weight of its outdated, war-built hulls—although of course the U.S.A. has built in recent years the biggest and most sophisticated warships in every major category — the navies of the so-called defeated nations are rising on a pinnacle of new steel, unfettered by the dead wood of a generation gone," Jane's said.

Jane's devoted most of its remarks to the U.S. and Soviet fleets. It said both Russians and Americans are taking to heart "the oft-reiterated and proven maxim exemplified by Nelson and Churchill: 'Who rules the sea rules the world.' "

"It is not unreasonable to assume that, if the United States can turn out nuclear-powered submarines at the rate of 10 to 12 per year, so also can the Soviet Union," it said.

Johnson Signs Bill Expanding Manpower Act

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson Thursday signed legislation aimed at fighting unemployment by training 700,000 unskilled youths and illiterate adults for new jobs.

The measure authorizes $527 million in new federal spending for the manpower program, and extends it for another three years.

Signing the bill during a special ceremony in the White House cabinet room, the President hailed the program as a major step in dealing with a "manpower revolution that may have more far-reaching effects than the industrial revolution of the last century."

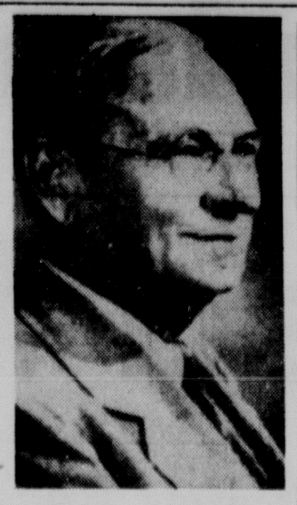
A key feature of the new law is a broadened provision to provide training for high school dropouts. The original 1962 Manpower Training Act had set age limits of 19 through 22. The starting age is now 17.

Smathers Deplores Tax Cut Bill Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George A. Smathers of Florida said Thursday the Senate Finance Committee is moving so slowly on the $11-billion tax cut bill that its enactment may be delayed until mid-1964.

Smathers, No. 3 Democrat on the committee, said "This would be a real calamity since both business and individual taxpayers have been counting heavily on this cut being effective" on Jan. 1, 1964.

Combs have been used by all people in every day for dressing the hair.



DIES — Irenee du Pont (above), 86, last of three brothers who led the du Pont Company from a small explosives manufacturing concern to the position of the world's largest diversified firm, died in Wilmington, Del., yesterday. He had been ill for some time. The seventh du Pont to head the business, he was the second of three brothers who in succession were president. Pierre S. du Pont, the eldest, died in 1954. Luxury Cars, Bureaucrat Status Symbols, Cut 75%

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's economy drive hit the bureaucrats Thursday where it hurts most — right in the status symbols.

The Budget Bureau issued orders cutting by 75 per cent the number of chauffeured limousines and other luxury vehicles used by government officials here and around the world.

When the dust settles and the screams subside, only 20 official limousines and no heavy sedans will be plying the broad avenues of Washington. There are now 131 bearing the top hands of the executive agencies.

The main difference between a limousine and the big black gas-eater classed as "heavy sedan" is a window between passenger and chauffeur.

The order restricts three types of cars rated by the bureau as luxury vehicles — limousines, heavy sedans and medium sedans. There are now 471 of them around the world. When the order is in full effect there will be 136.

The officials who lose their claim on the prestige cars will get light sedans, on which Congress has imposed a price limit of $1,500. The government can get a lot more car for $1,500 than you can.

Mann Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Thursday night unanimously confirmed President Johnson's nomination of Thomas C. Mann to be assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs.

New Negro Protests Hinted By Dr. King

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King said Thursday the current pause in the civil rights movement should not be interpreted as a letup.

While there are no large demonstrations now, the integration leader said, Negroes "are still carrying on the determined push."

Dr. King, in Baltimore to address a rally in the city's downtown Civic Center, held a news conference when he arrived at Friendship International Airport.

He said Negro leaders are in the process of analyzing the past year's activities in planning new steps for 1964. He said the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which he heads, will meet early in January to discuss future projects in "several backward communities.

Dr. King listed Cambridge, Md., Danville, Va., and Williamsport, N.C., as communities which disturbed him because of their racial policies.

Asked if he planned to take an active part in any new demonstrations at Cambridge, he said he had not been in touch with that situation but thought the movement was in the hands of capable local leaders.

Dr. King complimented Baltimore and Maryland for their accomplishments in civil rights, but added, "Honesty compels us to admit that Maryland has a long way to go before it is in line with its responsibilities."

As for the nation, he expressed belief President Johnson is in a stronger position to force civil rights legislation in Congrss than was the late President Kennedy.

Dr. King cited Johnson's background as former Senate majority leader and added, "This may give him an essential commodity not available to President Kennedy." He said Johnson, as a southerner, is in a good position to deal with opposition forces from his own region.

Robber Used Brother's Car For 'Revenge'

BALTIMORE (AP) — Carl Close testified Thursday he used his brother's car in holding up a bank because "if he had to go to jail for something I did, I'd help put him there."

"I don't care for my brother," Carl said.

The two brothers, Carl, 48, and Harold, 38, have been tried on charges of a $21,087 holdup of a bank. The case will go to a jury Friday.

Carl, who has a record of convictions for bank holdups, sprung a surprise at the trial Wednesday when he took the witness stand to admit the Maryland job last March 8.

At the same time, he sought to clear his brother of participating. Carl said he did so at the request of their mother.

While insisting it was not his brother, Carl refused to identify his accomplice.

"If I reveal this, I would be dead in six months," he said.

Asked why he used his brother's car, Carl replied "You want the truth, I wanted it traced. I knew we would be caught and when we were caught, my revenge would be complete."

He said his brother had refused to help him rob a bank in 1949 and he wanted to get him involved as a "dependable partner." He also said his younger brother had made improper advances to his wife.

Tentative Approval Given Redistricting

BALTIMORE (AP) — A circuit judge informally and tentatively approved Thursday a plan to realign the six legislative districts in Baltimore City.

Judge Wilson K. Barnes said the new boundaries appeared to him to satisfy constitutional requirements that the districts equitably represent population.

He had ruled earlier that the existing make-up did not.

The plan submitted to him was approved 22-9 at a meeting of city senators and delegates. It must be approved at a session of the full state legislature next year to become effective.

Maryland News In Brief

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md. (AP) — Maryland's highway fatality toll for 1963 reached 562 Thursday, but it was seven less than a year ago at this time.

William A. Romanough, 49, of Delta, Pa., was the latest victim. He was killed when his car rammed into the rear of a truck on U.S. 40.

BALTIMORE (AP) — An 11-year-old boy plunged a knife into his father's back Thursday to break up a fight between his parents.

The spinal cord of the father, Lester Bromwell Sr., 32, was severed and he was paralyzed from the waist down.

Lester Jr. told police his father was choking his mother on the floor of their living room, that he went and got a six-inch knife and plunged it into his father's back.

"I thought my mother was dead," the boy said, "but she came to and pulled the knife out of my father's back."

BALTIMORE (AP)—The manfacturer of what appears to be a pen but shoots tear gas has asked Circuit Court to lift a ban on its sale in Baltimore.

Police Commissioner Bernard J. Schmidt has ordered retail stores to discontinue selling the pens.

Bruno Tear Gas Sales Inc., which also sells the pens in Washington, D.C., and Virginia, contends no city or Maryland laws prohibits them.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Leon Weinberg not only failed to win a $6,000 sports car, but had to pay costs of filing a court suit.

Weinberg agreed to dismiss the suit after the Baltimore Orioles argued he had violated the rules of their contest offering the car.

At first, Weinberg claimed the Orioles had ruled out an entry by his 16-year-old son because minors were barred. Weinberg insisted he had made the entry in his son's name and was entitled to win.

But the Orioles showed that Weinberg also had filed an entry under his own name and so violated another rule of one to a contestant.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate, in a 53-34 roll call vote, defeated Thursday the amendment of Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., to cut $30 million from economic assistance funds for defense pact nations in the foreign aid bill.

Republicans voting for the amendment included Sen. J. Glenn Beall of Maryland. Sen. Daniel B. Brewster of Maryland was among Democrats voting against it.

Frostburg Kappa Xi Cast Initiates Four Students

Kappa Xi Cast of Alpha Psi Omega National Drama Fraternity of Frostburg State College held its first semester formal initiation Tuesday at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Four students who qualified for membership were initiated into the fraternity which has chapters in over 360 colleges and universities in the country.

They are Earleen Humbertson of Cumberland, Henry Heller of Washington, Eloit Weiner, Silver Spring and Robert Walker, Frostburg. They were installed by Samuel James, president of the chapter, Robert Hyde, vice president, and Miss Barbara Wells.

Miss Dorothy Stone White and Dr. Hubert Ellingsworth, advisors, and also members of the drama fraternity gave brief talks. Timothy Sheldon of the college faculty, was a guest.

Eighteen members attended the dinner. Decorations were in the Christmas theme with table appointments of white candles and crystal candelabra. Table centerpieces were brandy snifters filled with gold and blue Christmas balls, the colors of the fraternity.

Entertainment by the group in "cabaret theatre" style followed the formal initiation.

Warning Issued On Tularemia

A warning to hunters and housewives regarding the danger of contracting tularemia when skinning, dressing or handling wild rabbits, has been issued by the State Health Department.

Three cases of tularemia, sometimes called rabbit fever, have been reported recently to the State Health Department. Dr. J. H. Janney, chief of the Division of Epidemiology said these cases were related to the skinning and dressing of wild rabbits, although tularemia may also be contracted from handling infected squirrels, deer and other game, or from eating infected game that has not been thoroughly cooked.

Persons who handle the carcasses should wear waterproof gloves, the skin and entrails should be burned or disposed of so that other humans or animals do not come into contact with the animal remains and the animal meat should be cooked thoroughly, Dr. Janney said. Freezing does not destroy the tularemia organism. These precautions are necessary when handling domestic rabbits commonly sold in markets. It is illegal to sell wild games in Maryland.

Tularemia in humans usually begins with chills and fever. Frequently there is a local ulcer on the hand. Symptoms generally occur about three days after the victim has become infected. Although the disease may be severe if untreated, it is readily controlled with antibiotics, Dr. Janney said.

Local Man Struck By Automobile

A local man was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday afternoon after being struck by a car on Bedford Street.

Peter Zufall, 68, of 36 Bedford Street, was admitted to the hospital with an injury to his right leg and was reported in "satisfactory" condition last night.

City Police was notified of the accident which occurred about 2 p. m.

Local 37 To Meet

Local 37, Operating Engineers Union, will meet Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Rubber Workers Plan Yule Party

Local 26, Rubber Workers Union, will hold its annual Christmas party Saturday from 1 to 4 p. m. in Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club.

The party is for members of the union and their families. Entertainment will include a visit from Santa Claus.

The event is being planned by the local's entertainment committee headed by Paul Shook.

Local Elks Ritual Team Wins Contest

The ritualistic team of Cumberland Lodge 63, B. P. O. Elks, has won first place in the western district of the Maryland-Delaware District of Columbia Elks Association and will compete for the state championship next spring.

The team, composed of elective and appointive officers of the lodge, will compete against winners in the east and central districts for the right to represent Maryland in the national finals at the Grand Lodge convention in New York next July. The time and place of the state competition is to be announced.

Three members of the Cumberland group were named to the "All District Team" and one scored the highest rating of all officers in the district.

Named as "All District" team members were Exalted Ruler John E. Byrd Jr., Loyal Knight G. James Miller and Esquire Robert C. Hinkle. Miller took down individual honors in the district.

Calvin Delbrook, chaplain of Frostburg Lodge 470, was named to the "All District Team."

Wall Paneling Project Slated

Bernard F. Coyle Jr. yesterday secured a permit from the City of Cumberland to remodel the second floor of the Coyle Furniture Company's quarters at 45 Baltimore Street.

The work was estimated to cost $1,000 and will include paneling outside walls on the interior with fireproof panels.

Amcelle Christmas Party Is Planned

Local 1874, Textile Workers Union, and the Amcelle plant of Celanese Fibers Company will sponsor a children's Christmas party Saturday, beginning at 1:30 p. m. in the Strand Theater here.

The party is being planned as a joint venture for the children of all Amcelle employes.

The program will include movies and a visit from Santa Claus, who will distribute treats to the children.

Plans are being completed by members of the Amcelle staff and trustees of the union.

Flue Fire Checked

Firemen from South End station last night checked a flue fire at 702 Montreal Avenue. The call was received at 6:50 p.m.

Finnigan's Hollywood

BY JOSEPH FINNIGAN

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Warner Bros. studio is starting off the New Year with a big splash.

The movie and television production company is holding an underwater premiere of a picture.

A studio announcement said the world premiere of Warner's movie, "The Incredible Mr. Limpet" will be held at "the fabulous Weeki Wachee Springs in Florida." The place is further described as "the spring of live mermaids."

Heretofore, most mermaids were located out at Metro Goldwyn Mayer studio where supercolossal water ballets were filmed.

But that was in Hollywood's old days. The only remaining evidence of mermaids are some used costumes and Esther Williams.

Warners holds the aquatic premiere Jan. 17. The studio is inviting hundreds of guests to its premiere, presumably only those who can swim.

A Warner Bros. spokesman described the studio's premiere plans as "unprecedented" and "something mankind has been awaiting for one million years."

Those are strong words, but it comes to describing filmland Hollywood studio spokesmen are used to strong words when it comes to describing filmland activities.

He went on to explain that invited guests will watch "Mr. Limpet" through rippling waters clear as crystal.

"They've got a thing down there where you look through a glass into the water," he said. "We'll put a screen in the water and when you look down you'll see the picture. We'll project the film on the screen."

Why is the premiere being held underwater?"

"The picture is about a man who becomes a secret weapon for the U.S. Navy during World War II," the studio spokesman said. "It's a comedy."

The sea is involved, so they hold the premiere under water. Heaven help us if they ever make a picture about the devil. It'll be a hot premiere.

No matter how you slice it ...gas costs less

Cut up your household energy bill like a loaf of bread and you have to make different sized slices.

Cooking, for example, would be a small slice. Clothes drying, about the same. Water heating, a bigger slice. And home heating, quite obviously, the biggest of all.

All these slices make a rather sizeable loaf. If natural gas—rather than electricity—is the energy source for each slice, the loaf costs a lot less. Gas for cooking costs about $28 less a year than electricity. Clothes drying costs about $27 less . . . water heating costs $48 less . . . and home heating, the big energy use, costs about $285 less a year.

Add up these slices and you'll find natural gas saves you nearly $400 a year on your household energy bill.

Natural gas always has given you more for your energy dollar . . . and it will continue to be your best dollar value in generations to come.

Ground Broken For Sewer System Near Cumberland

Ground was broken yesterday on two separte parts of the Bowling Green-Roberts Place sewage system which will serve approximately 3,000 persons.

The project will cost $1 million with $375,000 of the sum being in the form of state and federal grants. The project, including collecting sewers and a sewage treatment plant, is expected to be completed within a year's time.

Playford S. Aldridge, chairman of the Allegany County Sanitary Commission, officiated at the ceremonies and spoke on the program. His talk follows:

"We meet here today to break ground for the construction of the first complete sewage collection and treatment system in Allegany County outside of an incorporated community. The problem of sewerage for suburban areas and small communities has been ignored and neglected until governmental and regulatory agencies responsible for the health of our people have been forced to restrict further residential, commercial, and industrial development until these services are provided.

"Today construction begins on the first such system. Plans are being prepared for another for the Cresaptown area to be built early in the coming year and preliminary studies are under way for similar facilities in several other areas of the county.

"The Allegany County Sanitary Commission, composed of public spirited citizens, appointed by the Board of Allegany County Commissioners, men who receive no compensation for their services, have been working on the planning and development of these projects for the past two and one half years. The many hours the members of that commission have worked to bring these projects to culmination are immeasurable. Their only reward is the knowledge that they have contributed to the betterment of the community. Their efforts are creating an area attractive to industry and development.

"First, I must express my gratitude to the members of the Sanitary Commission for their devotion to the task at hand and their fine cooperation.

"Next, without the help of the many elected and appointed officials of county, state, and federal governments, these projects would be impossible. The State Department of Health and the U. S. Department of Health Education and Welfare have contributed about one-third of the money for the construction. The liaison with these agencies has been accomplished through the offices of Attorney General Thomas B. Finan and U. S. Senators and Daniel B. Brewster and Glenn Beall. Their help and guidance is most deeply appreciated.

"The Board of Allegany County Commissioners, both past and present, has supported and encouraged our efforts.

"I now declare this sewerage project for the Bowling Green Sanitary District under construction."

Attending the ceremonies were Robert Reinhard, Alvin H. Rankin, George K. Steiner, Joseph O. Mellow, Russell Robeson and Kenneth K. Kennedy, members of the County Sanitary Commission; Thomas W. Shives, public health engineer for the State Department of Health; Gaylord Brooks, supervising sanitarian for the County Health Department; William Hout and Carl Vandegrift, two of the contractors on the project; Leonard Glass, of the Matz-Childs consulting engineering firm; J. Glenn Beall Jr., representing his father; Leslie J. Clark, attorney to the commission; County Commissioners Louis V. Shinnamon, Robert Little Ebert and Russell Carder; former county commissioners John J. Rowan, John T. Mason and William A. Wilson and Albert S. Paye, county engineer.

We hope that all you people who've switched to Antique Bourbon aren't going to keep it to yourselves.

Not so long ago, even the devoted few who drank Antique Bourbon would think twice about giving it.

Either they'd want to keep their discovery to themselves. Or they'd play it safe and give one of the better-known bourbons.

Well, the word's gotten around.

Our devoted few have become a devoted many.

So the people you give Antique Bourbon to may well be drinking it already.

And if they're not, you're right to give them a chance to try it.

Because Antique Bourbon has a character which no other whiskey we know of has these days.

Our older admirers say we've recaptured the long-lost character of the great pre-Prohibition bourbons.

We're willing to bet that once your friends try Antique and discover what a bourbon ought to taste like, they'll start buying it for themselves.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Kissin' cousins and other affectionate types needn't smooch under wilted or moldy mistletoe this yule.

Sprigs of the kissin' twig, dipped in a hormone solution, remain fresh and green for as long as 18 days. Berries stay white and firm.

The treatment, reported by U.S. Department of Agriculture marketing specialists, is intended for use by wholesale distributors before the mistletoe is sold at retail.

If you're in doubt that your mistletoe has been subjected to the life-lengthening hormone therapy, use the following American Society of Florist (ASF) suggestion for keeping the twig green and berries unshrjveled:

—Dip the stem in melted wax and spray the rest with plastic.

Here's additional ASF help for all decking the halls, doorways, windows, mantels, lights, staircases and other homefront fixtures subject to Christmas trimming:

—Make an attractive yule wreath from a circle of coat-hanger wire. Wire evergreen sprays against the frame around the entire circle, turning one group inward and the next outward. When the end is reached, the last spray should be carried under the first one. Add roses carnations, gladioli, mums, pompoms, cones or berries and ribbon.

—An easier to make door ornament takes shape when you wire three or four branches of evergreens together. Fan out ends of the branches. Add a bow, tree ornaments, bells or pine cones.

—Fashion a Santa face for the mantel. Use red and white carnations for the cap, peppermint carnations for the face and three big white football mums in florist's foam to make the beard. Use two small red Christmas balls for the eyes. Bend white pipe cleaners for the mouth. Place in a bowl and add sprays of holly at the sides to give the arrangement width and hide the bowl.

—Give the kitchen a holiday touch. Tuck red flowers and green foliage in candy containers.

—In modern homes with low-slung furniture, hang yuletide floral arrangements against walls.

Christmas Message In Sermon And Song

It is in the churches throughout the world that the meaning of Christmas receives its clearest and most moving expression. In churches everywhere the glad tidings of the birth of Christ will be set forth in sermons and songs.

The events of Christmas are a precious possession of Western civilization, which have a special poignance in an age when religion is being challenged in half the globe. The music of Christmas inspires the spirit and touches the heart. It ranges from magnificent chorales of Bach through Handel's melodious oratorios to the simplest of carols.

Most of the Christmas carols are of English and German origin, although some came from the Latin countries. An American, Phillips Brooks, wrote the words of one of the most beloved carols, "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

The greatest composers and poets found inspiration in the Christmas message for works, elaborate or simple, that have lasted through the centuries. Music is an essential part of the Christmas festival, expressing the sentiments of joy, salvation and peace which lie at the heart of the Christmas evangel.

As the Christmas bells ring, as special services are held on Christmas eve and on Christmas Day, remembrances and prayers will be offered for those in distant places who are on guard for freedom. The world will remain too much with us on Christmas until the message of the first Christmas, "peace on earth," penetrates the hearts of all mankind.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Dean Acheson And Friend

When, a little less than a year ago, I wrote a column welcoming a "new" Dean Acheson to the ranks of hard anti-Communist conservatives, I received a lot of critical and even nasty letters from people who were not disposed to forgive any repentant sinner. Yet the "new" Acheson has gone on talking great common sense on the subject of maintaining a firm line against the Soviet Union in Europe.

Just recently, at the University of Connecticut, Acheson lamented the continuing "erosion" of the Grand Alliance set up under NATO to keep the Soviets from extending the Iron Curtain westward. Acheson particularly deplored the effect that George Kennan was having on western political thought by his statements about "disengagement." "We have lived for more than a hundred years on principles of withdrawal from the mainstream," so Mr. Acheson quoted Kennan as saying, "and maybe this should be done again." Such an observation, says Mr. Acheson in effect, is pernicious nonsense.

In his list of "don'ts" Acheson gives first place to a "Don't decrease our fighting strength in Europe; and don't talk about doing so in the mistaken belief that talk will move our allies to greater efforts. Talk does only a little less harm than actual withdrawal itself."

Acheson's insistence that the U.S. must firmly ally itself with West Germany despite Gaullist "erosions" recalls that it was Willi Schlamm, an anti-Communist conservative of conservatives, who first proposed such cooperation between Washington and Bonn back in the first Eisenhower Administration. Schlamm wrote a book about the proposition that sold more than a hundred thousand copies in Germany — and only a meager three thousand in the U. S. Acheson, trusting Germany's Erhard as Schlamm trusted Adenauer, endorses all of Willi Schlamm's fears that France may turn out to be the shortsighted factor in letting Khrushchev have his way.

If I still think that anti-Communists should welcome Acheson's stand on European policy, however, I must admit that Truman's old Secretary of State retains his ancient faculty for attracting the lightning. In one of those "feeler" stories put out in Washington, Acheson is credited with urging President Lyndon Johnson to take on Philip Jessup, now a member of the World Court at The Hague in Holland, as his special adviser on foreign affairs. The "availability" of Jessup is predicated on the idea that McGeorge Bundy, a Kennedy holdover, will soon want to resign his job as White House foreign affairs specialist. Since Acheson has always had the ear of Lyndon Johnson, there could be a possibility that his advice on this business of picking a successor to Bundy will be taken.

Well, the anti-Communists would certainly rise up in their wrath if Jessup were to be put in any policy-making or policy-affecting position in Washington. They remember Philip Jessup as a man whom they considered influential in the Institute of Pacific Relations when it was under fire for helping to pull the rug out from under Chiang Kai-shek in China. They recall that a U.S. Senate subcommittee once said that "the IPR has been considered by the American Communist Party and by Soviet officials as an instrument of Communist policy, propaganda and military intelligence." They recall that Jessup once vouched for the character of Alger Hiss.

Of course, it is quite possible that Philip Jessup, like Acheson himself, has learned from experience that the Communists are wiley opponents, and that when they talk about "agrarian reformers" or "non-aggression pacts" they really mean something quite different. Times change, and just as there is a "new" Acheson there could be a "new" Jessup. Acheson himself may have worked a change in his friend. Nevertheless, if Lyndon Johnson should choose to take on Jessup as a foreign affairs adviser, there would be plenty of opposition from people who would insist that the "new" Jessup prove himself by some significant statement that he is no longer "soft" on Communism anywhere, whether in the West or the East.

Ticklish – But Possible

Many Ragged Edges In Soviet Farm Program

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

One major question has at any rate been answered by the Soviet Central Committee meeting to consider the grim problem of agriculture. At the last comparable meeting, in the winter of 1961, the Soviet bosses hopefully decided to try more bureaucrats as a substitute for more fertilizer. This time, the need for more fertilizer was squarely faced.

The huge sum of $46 billion is to be invested, in the years just ahead, to increase output of chemical fertilizer, to provide more pesticides, and even to make more truck tires so that the fertilizers and pesticides can be delivered to the Soviet farms.

As presented by Nikita S. Krushchev, the fertilizer program has a lot of very ragged edges. For one thing, Soviet technical training is so narrowly specialized that you do not graduate as a mining engineer, but as a coal engineer, or an iron mining engineer, or the like. Thus technicians trained to handle such a vast expansion of the Soviet chemical industry will be extremely scarce before more men can be trained.

Then too, the record shows that the basic vice of all East bloc agriculture is its organization in collectives. In Poland alone farming is not collectivized; and even Poland's decidedly old-fashioned peasant farms are far more productive than the incentive-killing Soviet collectives. Ideology forbade an attack on this basic organizational vice of Russian farming.

Yet the Soviets have clearly decided to make a Herculean effort to increase farm output. The specialists in Soviet affairs were still asking until the last moment whether this painful decision would again be ducked. Even with this uncertainty removed, however, many linked questions of equal importance remain unanswered.

The first group of these questions of course concerns how the Soviets are going to pay for the huge new investment to improve farm output, and how this heavy new drain on their total resources will affect the Soviet economy and the Soviet defense program.

As the specialists now see the facts, it seems most probable that Khrushchev hopes to get a large share of the needed resources by putting up a semi-stop on new capital investment in the steel and other heavy industries. These have always been the favorites, until now, of the Soviet economic planners. Downgrading them is close to heresy, in fact.

A bite wil lalso be taken out of the consumers, no doubt, particularly by slowing down construction of the new housing that is still so desperately needed. And in these and other ways, general economic growth, which has already strikingly decelerated, is to be partly sacrificed, in order to obtain fast growth in the sector helpful to agriculture.

Then too, credits and technical skills will certainly be sought in the West. At President Kennedy's funeral, Anastas Mikoyan pointedly told the British Prime Minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, that Soviet purchases in Britain would be greatly increased if better credit terms could be obtained.

The Prime Minister replied, a bit frostily, that British practice was to consider each individual loan application "ont its merits." But the Soviet pressure for Western credits is still going to be a major problem for President Johnson, perhaps requiring bold action.

Finally, the biggest question of all is exactly what Khrushchev meant, in his last speech at the recent meeting, when he said that the effort to bolster Soviet agriculture would also be accompanied by "some reductions" in the manpower of the armed forces.

Here again, the specialists are only guessing, as yet. But the guesses, based on much information and long practice, are interesting enough to be worth recording. To begin with, it is still by no means excluded that the present, highly conservative Minister of Defense, Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, will be replaced by the more modern-minded Chief of Staff, Marshal S. S. Biryuzov, at the forthcoming session of the Supreme Soviet. If this happens, Biryuzov will then be charged with general modernization of the Soviet defense design, including shrinking the army's swollen manpower.

In weaponry, the deployment of additional Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles, which began last winter, will almost certainly continue as before; and so will the expensive hardening of the ICBM sites. But the fertilizer decision makes it more unlikely than ever that the early model of the Soviet anti-missile-missile will be deployed in large numbers; and the same holds true for the low level anti-aircraft missile, the SAM-3.

The armed forces will like none of this, and great strains will surely result. Comparable strains will also result from giving second priority to general economic growth. All the unanswered questions mean, in sum, that this is only the beginning of a major drama, and a drama, moreover, with the utmost political as well as economic meaning.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

WATCH MAINE — The Maine primary is every Republican prospect's deadline. Goldwater said he would announce his decision whether or not to seek the GOP presidential nomination in January. He is expected to keep that promise, whether the answer is yes or no.

Nixon, until the change in the White House, had insisted that he will not be a candidate, but since then has been notably uncommunicative. True, the political moratorium applies to him, but he is expected to permit his name to go before the Maine voters in the early primary, along with that of Nelson A. Rockefeller, and Goldwater should the senator decide to make the race after all.

Before Kennedy's death, the word coming out of Maine was that Rockefeller was showing surprising strength. This was predicated on Goldwater being his only opposition. Now, however, if Nixon, a GOP moderate, is substituted for Goldwater, Rockefeller's showing doubtless will suffer.

Even if Nixon's name is not on the Maine primary ballot, you can expect a handsome write-in for him—in some ways a more powerful demonstration of political approval than voting for a listed candidate.

Cataract Surgery Is Designed For Elderly

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The cataract that develops in older persons is a degenerative condition and belongs in the same category as gray hair, wrinkled skin, and hardened arteries. The change is likened to the way egg white turns opaque when heated.

Initially, the cloudiness may not interfere with vision and many eye surgeons have observed early signs of cataract formation 10 to 15 years before the individual compains he no longer can see clearly. It is as though the room were full of smoke or the person were trying to see through mist or a waterfall (from which the word cataract comes). Spots appear when looking at the sky, water, snow, or a light colored wall.

There is much confusion as to when surgery should be done. Most ophthalmologists agree that the lens ought to be removed when vision no longer meets the needs of the individual. This is sooner for some than others. It is not necessary to wait for a cataract to ripen if vision in both eyes is so poor the person cannot read, work, or watch TV. There is no need to go about with failing vision for months or years.

No one is too old to undergo this type of surgery. The procedure is designed for the elderly because cataracts seldom develop before age 60. The majority go through the procedure without difficulty. As a rule the patient gets out of bed on the second day and goes home on the tenth. It is advisable to remain quiet for three or four weeks thereafter. Bending, lifting, and doing housework are verboten. Good results can be expected in 9 out of 10 undergoing this type of surgery.

Many are disappointed when given a temporary lens after the third or fourth week. They do not see as well as they did before the cataract was removed. The thick-lensed spectacles enlarge the image (30 per cent) on the operated side, leading to distortion. This is a temporary situation that clears up when the nerves and brain adjust to the loss of the lens. Corneal lenses are most helpful in correcting this situation.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

One of John Ringling North's favorite yarns concerns the wisp of a man who bought a ferocious tiger at an auction sale, outbidding several prominent circus proprietors. "What on earth do you propose doing with that man-eating beast?" he was asked by the trainer of a wild-animal act. "Going into competition with us?"

"Oh, no," said the little man. "It isn't that. But my wife's taking a trip around the world—and I'm lonely."

D g one of the tensest moments of "How the West Was Won" at the Cinerama Theater, an elderly gentleman began groping for something on the floor, greatly disturbing a lady in the next seat. "What have you lost?" she inquired testily. "A caramel," said the man. "You're going to all this bother for a measly caramel?" she demanded. "Yes," was the reply. "My teeth are in it."

Cleveland Amory knows one very proper—and well-heeled Bostonian who never saw asparagus growing until she was past fifty. The sight obviously unnerved her. "Why," she gasped, "I always thought that the cook braided the ends!"

Senator Finds Sunday Not A Day Of Rest In Johnson Administration

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Last Saturday, a day which is a holiday for organized labor and most government officials, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, the Democratic Whip, got a call at home.

"What're you doing at home?" asked a familiar voice. "I thought you'd be in Tokyo or Tel Aviv."

It was the President of the United States.

"I want your ideas on wheat," President Johnson continued, "And I need 'em by 3:30 tomorrow afternoon."

He went on to give some of his own ideas on wheat legislation, and asked the senator for his. Humphrey had introduced a wheat bill, following the Farm Bureau-led revolt of wheat farmers against the Kennedy-Freeman wheat program last May.

Next day was Sunday and, the wheat problem being an intricate one, Sen. Humphrey did not deliver his ideas at the White House by 3:30. Promptly at 3:30 he got another phone call.

"Where's that wheat program of yours?" asked the President of the United States.

Humphrey had worked most of the day and part of the night. Finally he got a wheat program over to the White House. In broad outline his plan calls for voluntary controls and for price supports for farmers accepting these controls.

Acheson Still Advises

The new President is operating with deft sureness when it comes to domestic legislation. He watches his old friends in Congress with the efficient concern of a hen piloting an unruly flock of chicks through a tomato patch. He has more legislative know-how than any other President in this century.

On foreign policy, however, Johnson is inclined to OK position papers too rapidly. Lyndon is accustomed to fast action; so when an adviser puts a policy outline in front of him and it sounds reasonable, he approves it.

This was the inside reason why the new President got himself and the nation in the position of throwing away his ace cards just before he sits down at his Texas ranch after Christmas with the new Chancellor of Germany, Ludwig Erhard.

Johnson, who understands tough Texas poker, is not in the habit of throwing away his aces. But in this case he is reported to have taken the advice of ex-Secretary of State Dean Acheson and his astute relative by marriage, McGeorge Bundy, the White House adviser on foreign affairs. The Acheson policy has been described by some State Department officials as making the United States a satellite of West Germany.

What Johnson did was to OK a pledge to keep six U. S. divisions in Europe chiefly in Germany.

By so doing, Johnson tossed away his power to bargain effectively over German tariffs against U. S. chickens, discrimination against other American farm products, the drain on the dollar, and especially adjustments with Russia to ease the cold war.

Germany Is Key To Cold War

The Germans have been on tenterhooks that the United States would withdraw one or two American divisions ever si nce Operation Big Lift. And the real truth is that President Kennedy and Secretary of Defense McNamara had planned to do so until both Chancellor Adenauer and President de Gaulle began squawking.

What some State Department advisers proposed was that the question of keeping the full quota of American troops in Europe be kept up in the air until after Chancellor Erhard's conversations in Texas, so as to give LBJ a chance to do some bargaining. Johnson had even refused to see German newsmen in order to keep a free hand.

But the Acheson axis which still has great power in the State Department, and which believes that U. S. policy should bow to German policy, had its way.

This put Secretary of State Rusk in the position of urging Germany and our NATO allies to improve relations with the Soviet in order to help Khrushchev in his battle with Red Chinese, but of having no bargaining power with our NATO allies to induce them to do this.

It also put Secretary of Defense McNamara in the difficult position of urging NATO allies to fill their quotas of troops for NATO without being able to threaten to withdraw U. S. troops if they didn't.

Less Hate For Haiti

One of the first and most important Latin-American moves by the Johnson Administration is to lessen U. S. hate for Haiti. To this end, Ambassador Benson E. L. Timmons, a skilled career diplomat, has gone to Haiti with the aim of keeping that country from becoming a Congo of the Caribbean.

President Francois Duvalier, educated at the University of Michigan Medical School and with a distinguished past record of combating "yaws," the difficult tropical disease, has now declared himself re-elected without any genuine election.

However, Americans who have talked to Duvalier recently say that he is definitely pro-American, vigorously anti-Castro, and convinced that Haiti's future lies with the United States.

One thing Duvalier mentioned was that 1060 Haitian soldiers came up to fight on the side of the United States during the Revolutionary War and 800 of them were killed in the Battle of Savannah. It will be Ambassador Timmons' job to win Duvalier's cooperation and help inject some democracy into his dictatorship.

CHOLESTEROL AND ARTERIES

A. E. writes: Is there any difference between an elevated cholesterol and arteriosclerosis?

REPLY

Yes. Cholesterol is a fatty substance found in the blood and other tissues. An elevated amount is associated frequently with hardening of the arteries but the two conditions are not synonymous.

WHISKY HEIGHTENS COLOR

C. C. writes: I'm 75 years old and look awfully pale. Do you think four ounces of whisky per day will bring back the color to my cheeks?

REPLY

It may but it won't cure the cause of your pallor. Are you anemic? Or is this your normal complexion, considering your age?

WATCH AND PULSE

M. S. writes: My new wristwatch runs 3 minutes fast in a week. Someone told me it is because my pulse is fast, which I don't think it is. Is there anything to this?

REPLY

No. Your problem will be solved by avoiding a doctor and taking your watch to a jeweler.

FAST PULSE

Mrs. C. O. writes: Would nerdyousness and tenseness cause the pulse to rise?

REPLY

Yes. These are common causes because of the close relationship between the heart beat and the emotions.

TOMORROW: The cause of gas.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

It was a cold night. The wind came down in a steady roar, whistling between the teeth of the bare trees and rocking the gas mantle street lights. The time was 7 p. m. and only two persons leaned against the gale. He held her hand, clasped in his, in an overcoat pocket. He loved her, but he was troubled because she wanted proof.

Proof? What proof? He had asked her to marry him. Wasn't that proof? Today, he had traveled to Elizabeth, New Jersey, to her house and he had brought her to his house for Sunday dinner. Maria had helped his mother with the roast, had helped to wash the dishes, and had even sung a song "Give Me The Right To Love You All the Time" as Eddie played the upright piano. As an encore, Eddie played "The Naughty Waltz," and his father, bright with sherry, danced with Maria.

Proof. This was December 1909. He had a good job paying $90 a month at Constable Hook. His parents owned the two-story house on West 4th Street in Bayonne, and the second floor was vacant. Life could be easy. More than easy. It could be beautiful.

They walked toward the West Eighth Street station, almost in silence. The temperature was at 10, too cold for conversation. Little spindrifts of snow slanted on the wind, and Maria used her free hand to hold her big hat on. She was not beautiful, but she was pretty. The face was pale and ordinary, but it was dominated by huge dark eyes and black hair so thick it swirled upward in a mound topped by a bun.

Maria had a good job with the Singer Sewing Machine Company in Elizabethport. She was only 19, but already she was forelady over the girls who placed bobbins in the machines. At home, she had a good mother and father and a house full of brothers and sisters. She loved Eddie, and she looked forward to marriage, but she had also heard about men who tired of their wives.

Eddie had pleaded with her. He had argued. His mother had even pleaded his cause. "Let's go up this way," he said. "It's shorter." The Central Railroad of New Jersey is elevated at this point. They walked up the steps on the eastbound side, and then started to cross the tracks to the west bound station.

The lights were out. It was Sunday night and no station master was there. The 7:22 would be coming from Claremount Avenue now, lighted and warm inside, and Eddie would take Maria home, asking once more that she have as much faith in him as he already had in her. As they crossed the four lanes of steel tracks, he took his hand out of his overcoat pocket and put it around her waist.

Maria responded to this touch. She loved this man and sometimes she despised herself for worrying about him. Her mother had told her that she was a fool; that Eddie was a good boy. Well, maybe when he said goodnight at the door tonight. . .maybe too much caution was as bad as too much daring. Maybe she would say yes.

They were crossing the fourth track when she said "Oh" and anguish creased her face. Her foot was caught between the track and the open switch rail. She tried to pull her foot loose. The shoe, ankle tall and tan suede with a dozen mother-of-pearl buttons, remained caught in the track. "My God," Eddie said, and stooped to pull the foot free. Maria moaned with pain. The foot remained where it was.

Then she saw the glistening yellow light on the rails around the curve and Maria began to whimper. "Run," she said. "Run, Eddie." He was panting in the cold. His fingers were numb. He tried to disengage the little buttons. He couldn't get the top one loose, but he got the second one. Then the third. Frantically, he tried to tear the shoe from her foot.

The yellow lights were now bright. The 7:22 was just around the big curving bend. Sometimes, it was not on the inside track. Eddie remembered that, many times, when he took Maria home, the 7:22 came in on the second track. Maria began to scream. "Please Eddie! Please! Save yourself. I beg you. . ." Eddie began to pray. His stiff fingers would not unbutton this shoe in time. He knew it. She knew it. "Dear God," he mumbled in the cold, "not now. Not this. Give us time. . ."

Then he heard the locomotive, the clank of high iron and the heavy sigh of air brakes. He stood, abject in defeat, and saw the train now. Maria hit him with her fist. "Eddie! Eddie! Good God, save yourself." He pinioned her arms at her side with his. He held her close, very close, and he forced her face into his coat collar so that she could no longer see.

Now he knew that it was on their track. Now he knew that nothing could stop the thundering black metal and the gleaming yellow eye. For a moment, he wondered why he was so calm. Then he whispered in her ear: "I will love you always, Maria. Always."

Christmas Message In Sermon And Song

It is in the churches throughout the world that the meaning of Christmas receives its clearest and most moving expression. In churches everywhere the glad tidings of the birth of Christ will be set forth in sermons and songs.

The events of Christmas are a precious possession of Western civilization, which have a special poignance in an age when religion is being challenged in half the globe. The music of Christmas inspires the spirit and touches the heart. It ranges from magnificent chorales of Bach through Handel's melodious oratorios to the simplest of carols.

Most of the Christmas carols are of English and German origin, although some came from the Latin countries. An American, Phillips Brooks, wrote the words of one of the most beloved carols, "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

The greatest composers and poets found inspiration in the Christmas message for works, elaborate or simple, that have lasted through the centuries. Music is an essential part of the Christmas festival, expressing the sentiments of joy, salvation and peace which lie at the heart of the Christmas evangel.

As the Christmas bells ring, as special services are held on Christmas eve and on Christmas Day, remembrances and prayers will be offered for those in distant places who are on guard for freedom. The world will remain too much with us on Christmas until the message of the first Christmas, "peace on earth," penetrates the hearts of all mankind.

These Days

By John Chamberlain

Dean Acheson And Friend

When, a little less than a year ago, I wrote a column welcoming a "new" Dean Acheson to the ranks of hard anti-Communist conservatives, I received a lot of critical and even nasty letters from people who were not disposed to forgive any repentant sinner. Yet the "new" Acheson has gone on talking great common sense on the subject of maintaining a firm line against the Soviet Union in Europe.

Just recently, at the University of Connecticut, Acheson lamented the continuing "erosion" of the Grand Alliance set up under NATO to keep the Soviets from extending the Iron Curtain westward. Acheson particularly deplored the effect that George Kennan was having on western political thought by his statements about "disengagement." "We have lived for more than a hundred years on principles of withdrawal from the mainstream," so Mr. Acheson quoted Kennan as saying, "and maybe this should be done again." Such an observation, says Mr. Acheson in effect, is pernicious nonsense.

In his list of "don'ts" Acheson gives first place to a "Don't decrease our fighting strength in Europe; and don't talk about doing so in the mistaken belief that talk will move our allies to greater efforts. Talk does only a little less harm than actual withdrawal itself."

Acheson's insistence that the U.S. must firmly ally itself with West Germany despite Gaullist "erosions" recalls that it was Willi Schlamm, an anti-Communist conservative of conservatives, who first proposed such cooperation between Washington and Bonn back in the first Eisenhower Administration. Schlamm wrote a book about the proposition that sold more than a hundred thousand copies in Germany — and only a meager three thousand in the U. S. Acheson, trusting Germany's Erhard as Schlamm trusted Adenauer, endorses all of Willi Schlamm's fears that France may turn out to be the shortsighted factor in letting Khrushchev have his way.

If I still think that anti-Communists should welcome Acheson's stand on European policy, however, I must admit that Truman's old Secretary of State retains his ancient faculty for attracting the lightning. In one of those "feeler" stories put out in Washington, Acheson is credited with urging President Lyndon Johnson to take on Philip Jessup, now a member of the World Court at The Hague in Holland, as his special adviser on foreign affairs. The "availability" of Jessup is predicated on the idea that McGeorge Bundy, a Kennedy holdover, will soon want to resign his job as White House foreign affairs specialist. Since Acheson has always had the ear of Lyndon Johnson, there could be a possibility that his advice on this business of picking a successor to Bundy will be taken.

Well, the anti-Communists would certainly rise up in their wrath if Jessup were to be put in any policy-making or policy-affecting position in Washington. They remember Philip Jessup as a man whom they considered influential in the Institute of Pacific Relations when it was under fire for helping to pull the rug out from under Chiang Kai-shek in China. They recall that a U.S. Senate subcommittee once said that "the IPR has been considered by the American Communist Party and by Soviet officials as an instrument of Communist policy, propaganda and military intelligence." They recall that Jessup once vouched for the character of Alger Hiss.

Of course, it is quite possible that Philip Jessup, like Acheson himself, has learned from experience that the Communists are wiley opponents, and that when they talk about "agrarian reformers" or "non-aggression pacts" they really mean something quite different. Times change, and just as there is a "new" Acheson there could be a "new" Jessup. Acheson himself may have worked a change in his friend. Nevertheless, if Lyndon Johnson should choose to take on Jessup as a foreign affairs adviser, there would be plenty of opposition from people who would insist that the "new" Jessup prove himself by some significant statement that he is no longer "soft" on Communism anywhere, whether in the West or the East.

Ticklish – But Possible

Senator Finds Sunday Not A Day Of Rest In Johnson Administration

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—Last Saturday, a day which is a holiday for organized labor and most government officials, Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, the Democratic Whip, got a call at home.

"What're you doing at home?" asked a familiar voice. "I thought you'd be in Tokyo or Tel Aviv."

It was the President of the United States.

"I want your ideas on wheat," President Johnson continued, "And I need 'em by 3:30 tomorrow afternoon."

He went on to give some of his own ideas on wheat legislation, and asked the senator for his. Humphrey had introduced a wheat bill, following the Farm Bureau-led revolt of wheat farmers against the Kennedy-Freeman wheat program last May.

Next day was Sunday and, the wheat problem being an intricate one, Sen. Humphrey did not deliver his ideas at the White House by 3:30. Promptly at 3:30 he got another phone call.

"Where's that wheat program of yours?" asked the President of the United States.

Humphrey had worked most of the day and part of the night. Finally he got a wheat program over to the White House. In broad outline his plan calls for voluntary controls and for price supports for farmers accepting these controls.

Acheson Still Advises

The new President is operating with deft sureness when it comes to domestic legislation. He watches his old friends in Congress with the efficient concern of a hen piloting an unruly flock of chicks through a tomato patch. He has more legislative know-how than any other President in this century.

On foreign policy, however, Johnson is inclined to OK position papers too rapidly. Lyndon is accustomed to fast action; so when an adviser puts a policy outline in front of him and it sounds reasonable, he approves it.

This was the inside reason why the new President got himself and the nation in the position of throwing away his ace cards just before he sits down at his Texas ranch after Christmas with the new Chancellor of Germany, Ludwig Erhard.

Johnson, who understands tough Texas poker, is not in the habit of throwing away his aces. But in this case he is reported to have taken the advice of ex-Secretary of State Dean Acheson and his astute relative by marriage, McGeorge Bundy, the White House adviser on foreign affairs. The Acheson policy has been described by some State Department officials as making the United States a satellite of West Germany.

What Johnson did was to OK a pledge to keep six U. S. divisions in Europe chiefly in Germany.

By so doing, Johnson tossed away his power to bargain effectively over German tariffs against U. S. chickens, discrimination against other American farm products, the drain on the dollar, and especially adjustments with Russia to ease the cold war.

Germany Is Key To Cold War

The Germans have been on tenterhooks that the United States would withdraw one or two American divisions ever si nce Operation Big Lift. And the real truth is that President Kennedy and Secretary of Defense McNamara had planned to do so until both Chancellor Adenauer and President de Gaulle began squawking.

What some State Department advisers proposed was that the question of keeping the full quota of American troops in Europe be kept up in the air until after Chancellor Erhard's conversations in Texas, so as to give LBJ a chance to do some bargaining. Johnson had even refused to see German newsmen in order to keep a free hand.

But the Acheson axis which still has great power in the State Department, and which believes that U. S. policy should bow to German policy, had its way.

This put Secretary of State Rusk in the position of urging Germany and our NATO allies to improve relations with the Soviet in order to help Khrushchev in his battle with Red Chinese, but of having no bargaining power with our NATO allies to induce them to do this.

It also put Secretary of Defense McNamara in the difficult position of urging NATO allies to fill their quotas of troops for NATO without being able to threaten to withdraw U. S. troops if they didn't.

Less Hate For Haiti

One of the first and most important Latin-American moves by the Johnson Administration is to lessen U. S. hate for Haiti. To this end, Ambassador Benson E. L. Timmons, a skilled career diplomat, has gone to Haiti with the aim of keeping that country from becoming a Congo of the Caribbean.

President Francois Duvalier, educated at the University of Michigan Medical School and with a distinguished past record of combating "yaws," the difficult tropical disease, has now declared himself re-elected without any genuine election.

However, Americans who have talked to Duvalier recently say that he is definitely pro-American, vigorously anti-Castro, and convinced that Haiti's future lies with the United States.

One thing Duvalier mentioned was that 1060 Haitian soldiers came up to fight on the side of the United States during the Revolutionary War and 800 of them were killed in the Battle of Savannah. It will be Ambassador Timmons' job to win Duvalier's cooperation and help inject some democracy into his dictatorship.

Many Ragged Edges In Soviet Farm Program

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

One major question has at any rate been answered by the Soviet Central Committee meeting to consider the grim problem of agriculture. At the last comparable meeting, in the winter of 1961, the Soviet bosses hopefully decided to try more bureaucrats as a substitute for more fertilizer. This time, the need for more fertilizer was squarely faced.

The huge sum of $46 billion is to be invested, in the years just ahead, to increase output of chemical fertilizer, to provide more pesticides, and even to make more truck tires so that the fertilizers and pesticides can be delivered to the Soviet farms.

As presented by Nikita S. Krushchev, the fertilizer program has a lot of very ragged edges. For one thing, Soviet technical training is so narrowly specialized that you do not graduate as a mining engineer, but as a coal engineer, or an iron mining engineer, or the like. Thus technicians trained to handle such a vast expansion of the Soviet chemical industry will be extremely scarce before more men can be trained.

Then too, the record shows that the basic vice of all East bloc agriculture is its organization in collectives. In Poland alone farming is not collectivized; and even Poland's decidedly old-fashioned peasant farms are far more productive than the incentive-killing Soviet collectives. Ideology forbade an attack on this basic organizational vice of Russian farming.

Yet the Soviets have clearly decided to make a Herculean effort to increase farm output. The specialists in Soviet affairs were still asking until the last moment whether this painful decision would again be ducked. Even with this uncertainty removed, however, many linked questions of equal importance remain unanswered.

The first group of these questions of course concerns how the Soviets are going to pay for the huge new investment to improve farm output, and how this heavy new drain on their total resources will affect the Soviet economy and the Soviet defense program.

As the specialists now see the facts, it seems most probable that Khrushchev hopes to get a large share of the needed resources by putting up a semi-stop on new capital investment in the steel and other heavy industries. These have always been the favorites, until now, of the Soviet economic planners. Downgrading them is close to heresy, in fact.

A bite wil lalso be taken out of the consumers, no doubt, particularly by slowing down construction of the new housing that is still so desperately needed. And in these and other ways, general economic growth, which has already strikingly decelerated, is to be partly sacrificed, in order to obtain fast growth in the sector helpful to agriculture.

Then too, credits and technical skills will certainly be sought in the West. At President Kennedy's funeral, Anastas Mikoyan pointedly told the British Prime Minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, that Soviet purchases in Britain would be greatly increased if better credit terms could be obtained.

The Prime Minister replied, a bit frostily, that British practice was to consider each individual loan application "ont its merits." But the Soviet pressure for Western credits is still going to be a major problem for President Johnson, perhaps requiring bold action.

Finally, the biggest question of all is exactly what Khrushchev meant, in his last speech at the recent meeting, when he said that the effort to bolster Soviet agriculture would also be accompanied by "some reductions" in the manpower of the armed forces.

Here again, the specialists are only guessing, as yet. But the guesses, based on much information and long practice, are interesting enough to be worth recording. To begin with, it is still by no means excluded that the present, highly conservative Minister of Defense, Marshal Rodion Malinovsky, will be replaced by the more modern-minded Chief of Staff, Marshal S. S. Biryuzov, at the forthcoming session of the Supreme Soviet. If this happens, Biryuzov will then be charged with general modernization of the Soviet defense design, including shrinking the army's swollen manpower.

In weaponry, the deployment of additional Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles, which began last winter, will almost certainly continue as before; and so will the expensive hardening of the ICBM sites. But the fertilizer decision makes it more unlikely than ever that the early model of the Soviet anti-missile-missile will be deployed in large numbers; and the same holds true for the low level anti-aircraft missile, the SAM-3.

The armed forces will like none of this, and great strains will surely result. Comparable strains will also result from giving second priority to general economic growth. All the unanswered questions mean, in sum, that this is only the beginning of a major drama, and a drama, moreover, with the utmost political as well as economic meaning.

Inside Washington

WATCH MAINE — The Maine primary is every Republican prospect's deadline. Goldwater said he would announce his decision whether or not to seek the GOP presidential nomination in January. He is expected to keep that promise, whether the answer is yes or no.

Nixon, until the change in the White House, had insisted that he will not be a candidate, but since then has been notably uncommunicative. True, the political moratorium applies to him, but he is expected to permit his name to go before the Maine voters in the early primary, along with that of Nelson A. Rockefeller, and Goldwater should the senator decide to make the race after all.

Before Kennedy's death, the word coming out of Maine was that Rockefeller was showing surprising strength. This was predicated on Goldwater being his only opposition. Now, however, if Nixon, a GOP moderate, is substituted for Goldwater, Rockefeller's showing doubtless will suffer.

Even if Nixon's name is not on the Maine primary ballot, you can expect a handsome write-in for him—in some ways a more powerful demonstration of political approval than voting for a listed candidate.

Cataract Surgery Is Designed For Elderly

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The cataract that develops in older persons is a degenerative condition and belongs in the same category as gray hair, wrinkled skin, and hardened arteries. The change is likened to the way egg white turns opaque when heated.

Initially, the cloudiness may not interfere with vision and many eye surgeons have observed early signs of cataract formation 10 to 15 years before the individual compains he no longer can see clearly. It is as though the room were full of smoke or the person were trying to see through mist or a waterfall (from which the word cataract comes). Spots appear when looking at the sky, water, snow, or a light colored wall.

There is much confusion as to when surgery should be done. Most ophthalmologists agree that the lens ought to be removed when vision no longer meets the needs of the individual. This is sooner for some than others. It is not necessary to wait for a cataract to ripen if vision in both eyes is so poor the person cannot read, work, or watch TV. There is no need to go about with failing vision for months or years.

No one is too old to undergo this type of surgery. The procedure is designed for the elderly because cataracts seldom develop before age 60. The majority go through the procedure without difficulty. As a rule the patient gets out of bed on the second day and goes home on the tenth. It is advisable to remain quiet for three or four weeks thereafter. Bending, lifting, and doing housework are verboten. Good results can be expected in 9 out of 10 undergoing this type of surgery.

Many are disappointed when given a temporary lens after the third or fourth week. They do not see as well as they did before the cataract was removed. The thick-lensed spectacles enlarge the image (30 per cent) on the operated side, leading to distortion. This is a temporary situation that clears up when the nerves and brain adjust to the loss of the lens. Corneal lenses are most helpful in correcting this situation.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

One of John Ringling North's favorite yarns concerns the wisp of a man who bought a ferocious tiger at an auction sale, outbidding several prominent circus proprietors. "What on earth do you propose doing with that man-eating beast?" he was asked by the trainer of a wild-animal act. "Going into competition with us?"

"Oh, no," said the little man. "It isn't that. But my wife's taking a trip around the world—and I'm lonely."

D g one of the tensest moments of "How the West Was Won" at the Cinerama Theater, an elderly gentleman began groping for something on the floor, greatly disturbing a lady in the next seat. "What have you lost?" she inquired testily. "A caramel," said the man. "You're going to all this bother for a measly caramel?" she demanded. "Yes," was the reply. "My teeth are in it."

Cleveland Amory knows one very proper—and well-heeled Bostonian who never saw asparagus growing until she was past fifty. The sight obviously unnerved her. "Why," she gasped, "I always thought that the cook braided the ends!"

CHOLESTEROL AND ARTERIES

A. E. writes: Is there any difference between an elevated cholesterol and arteriosclerosis?

REPLY

Yes. Cholesterol is a fatty substance found in the blood and other tissues. An elevated amount is associated frequently with hardening of the arteries but the two conditions are not synonymous.

WHISKY HEIGHTENS COLOR

C. C. writes: I'm 75 years old and look awfully pale. Do you think four ounces of whisky per day will bring back the color to my cheeks?

REPLY

It may but it won't cure the cause of your pallor. Are you anemic? Or is this your normal complexion, considering your age?

WATCH AND PULSE

M. S. writes: My new wristwatch runs 3 minutes fast in a week. Someone told me it is because my pulse is fast, which I don't think it is. Is there anything to this?

REPLY

No. Your problem will be solved by avoiding a doctor and taking your watch to a jeweler.

FAST PULSE

Mrs. C. O. writes: Would nerdyousness and tenseness cause the pulse to rise?

REPLY

Yes. These are common causes because of the close relationship between the heart beat and the emotions.

Donations Mount

LONDON (UPI)—More than 11,000 persons have donated $25,760 to a memorial fund for a statue honoring the late President Kennedy, the Daily Telegraph reported Thursday.

The term "South Sea Bubble" was used to describe a company formed in England in 1711 to pay the national debt in return for the privilege of trading in the South Seas. It collapsed about 1720, ruining thousands.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I married late (at age 34) and I had a baby five years later. I was shocked. Two doctors told me I would never have a family.

My son was a colic baby and cried for six months straight. My husband and I didn't know what a good night's sleep was until that boy was nine months old.

Reginald is now six and has caused us nothing but trouble. He broke up my friendship with three neighbors because he tore up their flowers, scratched their furniture with his toys and hit their children. They blamed me and said I didn't control him. Believe me, Ann, I spanked him repeatedly but it did no good.

Last week his first grade teacher told me in her 23 years of teaching she has never seen a more difficult child. She suggested professional help. My husband says all the psychiatrists he knows are nuttier than their patients, and that our boy needs a military school. We know a school that will take him at age seven. It's expensive but it may be worth it. What do you say?
—EXHAUSTED

DEAR EXHAUSTED: I say the teacher gave you excellent advice and I hope you will take it. I could write five columns on what is wrong with your son and why—all based on the facts you have outlined in your letter. Run, don't walk, to the nearest doctor who specializes in disturbed children. Your child needs help desperately.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Something happened recently that made me realize the hazards of retirement—not so much for the man who suddenly finds himself with time on his hands, but for his poor wife.

I have belonged to a two-table bridge club for almost 20 years. We met every week at the home of one of the members, and all of us had a delightful time. Last month the women announced, rather mysteriously, that the club was disbanding because there seemed to be so many other things to do. Our final meeting was held two weeks ago.

I heard this morning that the club has been reorganized and I was left out. The reason? Since my husband retired six months ago the women dreaded coming to my home because my husband insisted on hovering over the tables and offering suggestions on how to play their hands.

I cannot deny that all they said is true. Frankly, he gets on my nerves, too, but what can I do about it? Please, please suggest something. — NOT-SO-GOLDEN-YEARS

DEAR NOT-SO-GOLDEN: Your husband needs an outlet for his time and energies so he will not need to hang around you and your friends.

You know where his interests and his talents lie. Get busy and direct them into productive channels or he'll drive you both out of your minds.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Our son is planning to marry a nice girl who comes from a family that has nothing. He is our only child and frankly we had hoped for something better for him.

The bride's mother phoned yesterday and asked me to send a list of our close relatives. She said she was sorry we could not invite any friends to the dinner because they are working on a limited budget and must keep the dinner list down.

My husband and I are heartsick. We are well off financially and would like to foot the bill for the wedding and do it right. Please advise. —NOT HAPPY

DEAR NOT HAPPY: Send off the abbreviated list and show no sign of disappointment or unhappiness. The bride's parents should have the kind of wedding they can afford and you should go along with it—graciously.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Scientists Working On Food Spoilage

CORVALLIS, Ore. (UPI) — Families someday may be able to store fresh fish in the refrigerator for three weeks without loss of its goodness, an Oregon State University food scientist says.

R. O. Sinnhuber said a new way of preserving food, radiation - pasteurization, offers promise of extending shelf - life of foods if certain problems can be overcome. He and microbiologist A. W. Anderson are directing research on the effect of radiation - pasteurization on food spoilage organisms in seafoods, under a $28,000 contract with the Atomic Energy Commission.

In radiation - pasteurization, Sinnhuber said, fairly low dosages of gamma rays are passed through food, killing nearly all the bacteria. No heat is involved in the process and the food is in no way radioactive.

Research workers also want to learn about micro-organisms surviving and radiation treatment and about those that develop during storage.

Sinnhuber said radiation of seafoods was a promising hope for extending the world's food supply if further research and development can be continued.

More Time Being Spent Sitting Down

CHICAGO (UPI) —Americans are spending more time than ever sitting down, a study by a chair manufacturer reports.

By the time you reach 70 years of age you will have spent 37 of those 70 years sitting down, compared to 31 for an earlier generation, says Futorian Mcnufacturing Co.

Housewives, waiters and waitresses, salespeople, farmers, construction workers and others in comparably active occupations do a little better, but even they are likely to put in 28 years sitting down, compared to 23 a generation back, the report said.

Company President Morris Futorian sees modern technology as the reason for the increase in sedentary living.

"Automation has put more and more people into desk jobs, and where there's a desk, there's a chair. The farmer, whose father walked behind a plow, rides on a tractor—sitting down. Housewives today sit down to iron or do dishes," he said.

Flintstone Resident Guilty Of Assault

A Flintstone area man was found guilty in Trial Magistrates Court of assault yesterday following an yesterday gun incident at his home.

Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt handed James Abraham Stoakes, the defendant, a suspended 60-day sentence and ordered him to make restitution to the owner of a car that was hit by two shotgun blasts.

Testimony at the hearing showed that the complainant, Fred J. Bland, Philadelphia, an employe of the Nello Teer Company that is constructing the second section of the Town Hill-Green Ridge bypass, drove the defendant's daughter home yesterday at 5 a. m.

The magistrate noted that the 19-year-old girl is employed at a Route 40 restaurant.

Mr. Stoakes testified that he had been sitting at the kitchen table, loading his shotgun for a rabbit hunting expedition yesterday when the car arrived.

He declared that he went to the porch walked down the steps with the gun in hand, and tripped, causing the shotgun to go off, hitting the car in two places.

Mr. Stoakes was arrested on a warrant obtained by Mr. Bland.

Smoke Scare Checked

Cresaptown Volunteer Firemen responded to an alarm yesterday at 9:13 a. m. when a passing motorist saw smoke coming from railroad ties being burned near the Mason Dairy property. Six men responded with two pieces of equipment, but the alarm turned out to be a smoke scare.

Storms Kill Two

SANGOLQUI, Ecuador (UPI) —Violent thunderstorms Monday and Tuesday killed two persons and injured three in the Curipungo-Cotohchoa region it was reported Thursday.

First reports indicated all five casualties were struck by lightning.

Get Two Hijackers

CARACAS (UPI)—A roundup of Communist terrorists here Wednesday night netted two Spaniards who took part in the hijack of the Portuguese liner Santa Maria, it was announced Thursday.

The interior (police) ministry said eight prisoners taken in the raids—seven men and a woman — also included two aides of Juan D. Moncada Vidal, recently captured terrorist leader.

The announcement identified the Santa Maria hijackers as Jose Fernandez Vasquez, and Luis Fernandez Ackerman.

Flintstone Resident Guilty Of Assault

A Flintstone area man was found guilty in Trial Magistrates Court of assault yesterday following an yesterday gun incident at his home.

Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt handed James Abraham Stoakes, the defendant, a suspended 60-day sentence and ordered him to make restitution to the owner of a car that was hit by two shotgun blasts.

Testimony at the hearing showed that the complainant, Fred J. Bland, Philadelphia, an employe of the Nello Teer Company that is constructing the second section of the Town Hill-Green Ridge bypass, drove the defendant's daughter home yesterday at 5 a. m.

The magistrate noted that the 19-year-old girl is employed at a Route 40 restaurant.

Mr. Stoakes testified that he had been sitting at the kitchen table, loading his shotgun for a rabbit hunting expedition yesterday when the car arrived.

He declared that he went to the porch walked down the steps with the gun in hand, and tripped, causing the shotgun to go off, hitting the car in two places.

Mr. Stoakes was arrested on a warrant obtained by Mr. Bland.

Smoke Scare Checked

Cresaptown Volunteer Firemen responded to an alarm yesterday at 9:13 a. m. when a passing motorist saw smoke coming from railroad ties being burned near the Mason Dairy property. Six men responded with two pieces of equipment, but the alarm turned out to be a smoke scare.

Don't allow fatigue to spoil your Christmas parties

Secrets Of Charm
by John Robert Powers

Christmas Parties Can Be Tiring

You'll have a lot of enjoyment from your holiday festivities this year if you combat fatigue before it starts. Begin your campaign right now, to make the most of the coming season.

If you want to rush through myriad tasks and scramble on countless rounds, yet be fresh and gay for the season's parties, teach yourself breath control. Deep, natural breathing is one of the secrets of a tireless, nerve-free mind and body.

Deep breathing improves the poor posture that leads to body fatigue. You can't slouch or slump when you are filling your lungs to their capacity! And you automatically supply your muscle tissues with the increased oxygen necessary for sustained physical vitality. You'll discover that nervous tension diminishes almost magically as your physical fatigue is lessened.

Place your hands on your lower ribs and feel the expansion and contraction of your rib case as you breathe. Inhale deeply and steadily for a count of four. Be sure to keep your shoulders relaxed and your chest elevated all the while. Now, slowly exhale to a count of four.

What happened? Did your chest heave up and down? If so, you're on the wrong track. The only movement that should have occurred is the expansion and contraction of your lower ribs. To correct your breathing, practice to a rhythmic count of four until expansion and contraction occur in the right place. Now is the time!

Here's an exercise to help you put rhythmical breathing into your everyday movements. Lie on your back with your legs straight, your arms at your sides and inhale. Raise the right leg to about a 45 degree angle with the floor and simultaneously swing both arms up and back over your head to the floor. As you do this exhale hard. Then, lower your arms and leg to the floor as you inhale deeply. Repeat with the opposite leg.

You'll find this forces you to breathe exactly the opposite of normal. That's what's good for you: You have to think about your breath control if you want to put it to work to combat fatigue!

Moorefield Firemen Answer Two Calls

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Moorefield firemen responded to two alarms last week. One alarm sounded as the firemen were beginning their meeting Friday night, for an overheated oil stove in a trailer belonging to Buddy Hess. The trailer is located at Harold Miley's Place on the South Fork. No damage was caused by the threat of a blaze.

Firemen were called to Asbury Church on Alleghaney and Town Run Monday morning to quell a blaze around the flu. No fire had been in the heating stove since the previous night and the blaze was thought to have been caused by defective wiring. Minor damage resulted from the fire.

Moorefield Man Caught In Cave-In

MOOREFIELD, W. Va.—Dabney Scott suffered painful bruises and six cracked ribs when a cave-in occurred Friday morning while he was working in a ditch being excavated for the new Moorefield sewage line. The mishap occurred in the ditch, weakened by rains, located back of Schell's Body Shop, where the sewer line will go back to the installation at the Town Park.

Scott was completely covered by the cave-in and was dug out by John Simmons. This was the second time Scott had been caught in a cave-in. He was treated by Dr. M. H. Maxwell before being taken to Winchester Memorial hospital, for x-rays and treatment.

LaSalle Visits Fort Hill Tonight For 56th Game Of Cage Series

Valley Plays At Piedmont In 22nd Tilt

Mt. Savage To Host Southern; Bruce To Entertain Northern

The annual triangular series for the city basketball championship gets under way tonight at Fort Hill High School's gym where Coach Jim Eckard's Sentinels host LaSalle High School's Explorers at 8 o'clock.

This is the 56th meeting of LaSalle and Fort Hill and the latter holds a one-game edge in the series with 28 wins to LaSalle's 27.

LaSalle held a 27-26 lead until last year when the Hilltoppers bagged both games, 74-45 at SS. Peter & Paul court and 87-64 at Fort Hill. The latter game, delayed one day on account of an 9-inch snow February 19, was a foul-riddled affair and saw seven players ejected — five from LaSalle and two from Fort Hill.

Coach George Geatz's Explorers go into tonight's battle with a 2-2 record. Fort Hill is 1-2, having scored its first victory of the campaign over Martinsburg Tuesday night.

Allegany High School is the defending city champion, having swept all four games with LaSalle and Fort Hill last season.

Valley and Piedmont, both defeated in a pair of hair-raising battles on Tuesday, come to grips at Piedmont tonight.

Meet In 22nd Game

Last Friday Piedmont eked out a 50-49 over the Black Knights at Lonaconing and now leads in the series which started in 1954, 12 games to nine.

During the regular 1962-63 season, Piedmont's only loss came at the hands of Valley at 'Coney, 51-49, after the Lions had won on their home court, 69-45.

This series has been marked by three games decided by a single point and four games by the margin of two points.

Southern At Mt. Savage

Mt. Savage High School's Indians will be shooting for their fourth straight win when they play host to the Highlanders from Southern High School, Oakland, who have lost three games in four outings.

Coach Leonard Ritchie's unbeaten Bruce High Bulldogs will try to make it five in a row when they engage Northern High School of Garrett county (0-4) at Westernport tonight.

Two PVC Games on Tap

Two Potomac Valley Conference games are on the boards with Elk Garden slated to play at Circleville while Franklin, undefeated in five starts, entertains the Moorefield High School Yellowjackets. Elk Garden is 2-3, Circleville 0-5 Moorefield 1-2.

Rounding out the Friday schedule Mussleman High's Applemen visit Wardensville, Oldtown invades Salisbury, Pa., Hyndman's Hornets host Berlin, the Alumni is at Flintstone, Central High of Woodstock, Va., winds up its series with Mathias at the latter place and Bedford plays at Meyersdale.

Celtics Outlast Knicks, 143-140

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI)— The Boston Celtics outlasted a 49-point last-quarter rally by New York Thursday night to beat the Knickerbockers 143-140 at Rhode Island Auditorium.

The Celtics, playing without big Bill Russell and sparkplug Frank Ramsey, saw a 21-point third-quarter lead dwindle to three in the late stages of the game.

But Boston sharpshooters were equal to the task, trading shot for shot with the hothanded Knicks as the clock ran out.

The win was Boston's 23rd in 26 games. It was New York's ninth straight loss.

Eight Coaches Vie For Eastman Award

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Cotton Bowl rivals Wayne Hardin of Navy and Darrell Royal of Texas were among eight major college coaches nominated Thursday for the Eastman Kodak Coach-of-the-year award.

The eight candidates were selected on a regional basis by more than 800 members of the American Football Coaches Association from 250 of the nation's leading colleges and universities.

The other nominees were John Yovicsin of Harvard, John Michelson of Pittsburgh, Paul Davis of Mississippi, Pete Elliott of Illinois, Robert Devaney of Nebraska, and Jim Owen of Washington.

Just Like The Pros

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI) — High school basketballers scored points by the bucketfull at a rate of 7.3 a minute here Thursday night as Trap Hill High defeated Mark Twain 122-114 in one of the highest scoring games in many years.

Griffith, Carter Both Predicting KO's In Pittsburgh Bout Tonight

Middleweight Title Shot May Go To Winner

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Both Emile Griffith, world welterweight champion, and Rubin (Hurricane) Carter, top middleweight contender, are predicting knockouts Friday night when they fight for a possible shot at the middleweight (160-pound) crown.

Although Griffith's 147-pound title will not be at stake in the nationally televised 10-rounder at Pittsburgh's Civic Arena, the speedy champ from New York says:

"My reputation will be on the line. The Boxing Writers' Association voted me fighter of the year and I must prove they're right by knocking him out."

Muscular Carter of Paterson, N.J., stroked his drooping pirate's mustache thoughtfully and explained that Griffith was a "proud" man before he was named "fighter of the year," and now he's so proud he'll force the fight lest he be accused of running away.

"And I'll knock out anybody who comes at me. Yeah! He's just gotta go!"

Neither would pick a round for his kayo. Each merely promised to "take him out" as soon as possible.

However, the betting is 11-5 that they're both wrong and that the bout lasts its scheduled 10 heats. Also the betting is 2-1 that Griffith wins the fight no matter how long it lasts.

Their fight contract prevents either from weighing more than 157 pounds. Carter, 26, expects to hit about 156¾. Griffith, 24, will register about 152.

Promoter Archie Litman has offered to guarantee middleweight champion Joey Giardello $75,000 with the privilege of 40 per cent of all net revenue for a title defense against the winner in Pittsburgh on April 3.

Carmen Tedeschi, the wealthy New Jersey building contractor who manages Carter says, "When Rubin knocks out Griffith, I'll be ready to guarantee Giardello $100,000 for a defense against him. That'll be no problem for me."

Members of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission are also planning to ask the World Boxing Association to order Giardello of Cherry Hill, N.J., to make his first defense against Friday's winner.

Giardello says he has a gentleman's agreement for a first defense against Dick Tiger of Nigeria, from whom he won the title at Atlantic City Dec. 7. But John J. "Harp" Vaughan, Pittsburgh member of the Pennsylvania commission says, "the World Boxing Association has an official ban against return title bouts in its rules. We want it enforced."

Emile is two years younger than Carter, he has had exactly twice as many professional fights — 42—as Carter's 21. Griffith's 38-4-0 record includes 13 knockouts and he never was stopped.

Carter's 17-4-0 include 11 knockouts, the best of which was his first-round kayo of middleweight contender Florentino Fernandez in October, 1961.

St. Patrick's, St. Mary's Cop Second CYL Wins

St. Patrick's trimmed St. Michael's, 53-33, and St. Mary's walloped Mt. Savage, 57-13, for their second straight Catholic Youth League victories last night at SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium.

SS. Peter and Paul defeated St. Ambrose, 52-39, in the other game of the tripleheader on the Fayette Street court.

Glenn Cross collected 18 points and Ricky Scaletta checked in with 14 as the Fighting Irish dealt the Frostburgers their first loss. Cross and Mike Malloy led St. Patrick's in the rebounding department. Bobby Arnold was St. Michael's best with a dozen tallies.

St. Mary's had a shutout going at halftime, leading 42-0, then cleared the bench in the second half. Twelve players scored for the Gaels, with Clarke's 16 points heading the parade. Carter and Beal shared eight of the loser's markers.

Kyle Geatz hooped 12 points and Kevin Mattingly and Jack Willits tossed in ten apiece for the Flying Dutchmen, who evened their record at 1-1. Mike Kane and Steve Habersack accounted for 25 of the Cresaptown quint's total.

Komives Leads College Scorers

Bowling Green Star Has 35.5 Average

NEW YORK (AP) — Howard Komives, a 6-1 guard from Bowling Green, is the scoring leader in the first set of weekly major college basketball statistics released Thursday by the NCAA. Komives is averaging 35.5 points a game.

The small senior, who was 45th last season with a 20.2 average, is one of nine players in the country averaging better than 30 points a game this season, as basketball scores mount throughout the nation.

However, both Nick Werkman of Seton Hall and Barry Kramer of NYU who finished 1-2 last year in the tightest scoring race in history, are out of the top ten. Werkman is 12th with 28.8, Kramer 38th with 23.6.

The figures cover games through Dec. 14.

Loyola of Chicago, team scoring champion the last two seasons, leads that department again, at 104.4 points per game. Temple is the defense leader, holding opponents to 49.3.

Philadelphia Will Remain Army-Navy Site

Contract Signed For Three Years

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— The 100,000 - seat Philadelphia Stadium will continue as the site of the annual Army-Navy football classic for at least the next three years.

The game has been played in Philadelphia every year since 1932, except during the war years of 1942-43-44, when it was at either Annapolis or West Point.

City officials confirmed that athletic directors at West Point and Annapolis signed a new contract last spring, after efforts by Chicago to get the game shifted to that city's Soldier Field.

A spokesman for Mayor James H. J. Tate said the city is seeking to have Army move its 1964 game with Penn State from West Point to the stadium, and also its 1965 game with Air Force Academy.

Washington and New Jersey City also are bidding for those games, the spokesman said. This year's Army-Air Force game was played in Chicago.

The annual games reportedly bring about $2 million in business to the city.

Rams Sign Scotti As Free Agent

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams added punch to their defense backfield Thursday when they signed as a free agent Ben Scotti, recently released by the Philadelphia Eagles.

The 186-pound Scotti and an Eagle teammate, 262 - pound John Mellekas, were suspended last November after engaging in a fight.

Scotti, 26, a five-year veteran in the National Football League, broke in with the Washington Redskins in 1959 and was traded in 1962 to Philadelphia. He attended the University of Maryland and lives in Long Branch, N. J.

West Virginia's Hunting Season Extends To Jan. 25

Nimrods May Bag Rabbits, Quail, Ruffed Grouse

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — State Natural Resources Director Warden Lane announced Thursday the extension of the hunting season on rabbits, quail and ruffed grouse through Jan. 25.

He said it would provide hunters with 18 additional days of hunting. The decision was made to make up for 14 hunting days lost from mid - October through Nov. 2. The season was suspended then due to serious forest fire conditions.

The rabbit and ruffed grouse extension is effective for all counties with the exception of Pendleton, Pocahontas and Randolph and those portions of Nicholas and Webster Counties east of W. Va. 20.

The extended season on quail is valid for only Mason, Cabell and Wayne Counties in the west, he said, and for Berkeley and Jefferson Counties in the east.

Hunting in all other counties will close as scheduled in the 1963 hunting regulations, Lane said. He noted 1964 hunting licenses will be required after Dec. 31.

LaSalle Visits Fort Hill Tonight For 56th Game Of Cage Series

Valley Plays At Piedmont In 22nd Tilt

Mt. Savage To Host Southern; Bruce To Entertain Northern

The annual triangular series for the city basketball championship gets under way tonight at Fort Hill High School's gym where Coach Jim Eckard's Sentinels host LaSalle High School's Explorers at 8 o'clock.

This is the 56th meeting of LaSalle and Fort Hill and the latter holds a one-game edge in the series with 28 wins to LaSalle's 27.

LaSalle held a 27-26 lead until last year when the Hilltoppers bagged both games, 74-45 at SS. Peter & Paul court and 87-64 at Fort Hill. The latter game, delayed one day on account of an 9-inch snow February 19, was a foul-riddled affair and saw seven players ejected — five from LaSalle and two from Fort Hill.

Coach George Geatz's Explorers go into tonight's battle with a 2-2 record. Fort Hill is 1-2, having scored its first victory of the campaign over Martinsburg Tuesday night.

Allegany High School is the defending city champion, having swept all four games with LaSalle and Fort Hill last season.

Valley and Piedmont, both defeated in a pair of hair-raising battles on Tuesday, come to grips at Piedmont tonight.

Meet In 22nd Game

Last Friday Piedmont eked out a 50-49 over the Black Knights at Lonaconing and now leads in the series which started in 1954, 12 games to nine.

During the regular 1962-63 season, Piedmont's only loss came at the hands of Valley at 'Coney, 51-49, after the Lions had won on their home court, 69-45.

This series has been marked by three games decided by a single point and four games by the margin of two points.

Southern At Mt. Savage

Mt. Savage High School's Indians will be shooting for their fourth straight win when they play host to the Highlanders from Southern High School, Oakland, who have lost three games in four outings.

Coach Leonard Ritchie's unbeaten Bruce High Bulldogs will try to make it five in a row when they engage Northern High School of Garrett county (0-4) at Westernport tonight.

Two PVC Games on Tap

Two Potomac Valley Conference games are on the boards with Elk Garden slated to play at Circleville while Franklin, undefeated in five starts, entertains the Moorefield High School Yellowjackets. Elk Garden is 2-3, Circleville 0-5 Moorefield 1-2.

Rounding out the Friday schedule Mussleman High's Applemen visit Wardensville, Oldtown invades Salisbury, Pa., Hyndman's Hornets host Berlin, the Alumni is at Flintstone, Central High of Woodstock, Va., winds up its series with Mathias at the latter place and Bedford plays at Meyersdale.

Celtics Outlast Knicks, 143-140

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UPI)— The Boston Celtics outlasted a 49-point last-quarter rally by New York Thursday night to beat the Knickerbockers 143-140 at Rhode Island Auditorium.

The Celtics, playing without big Bill Russell and sparkplug Frank Ramsey, saw a 21-point third-quarter lead dwindle to three in the late stages of the game.

But Boston sharpshooters were equal to the task, trading shot for shot with the hothanded Knicks as the clock ran out.

The win was Boston's 23rd in 26 games. It was New York's ninth straight loss.

Eight Coaches Vie For Eastman Award

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI) — Cotton Bowl rivals Wayne Hardin of Navy and Darrell Royal of Texas were among eight major college coaches nominated Thursday for the Eastman Kodak Coach-of-the-year award.

The eight candidates were selected on a regional basis by more than 800 members of the American Football Coaches Association from 250 of the nation's leading colleges and universities.

The other nominees were John Yovicsin of Harvard, John Michelson of Pittsburgh, Paul Davis of Mississippi, Pete Elliott of Illinois, Robert Devaney of Nebraska, and Jim Owen of Washington.

Just Like The Pros

BECKLEY, W. Va. (UPI) — High school basketballers scored points by the bucketfull at a rate of 7.3 a minute here Thursday night as Trap Hill High defeated Mark Twain 122-114 in one of the highest scoring games in many years.

Griffith, Carter Both Predicting KO's In Pittsburgh Bout Tonight

Middleweight Title Shot May Go To Winner

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Both Emile Griffith, world welterweight champion, and Rubin (Hurricane) Carter, top middleweight contender, are predicting knockouts Friday night when they fight for a possible shot at the middleweight (160-pound) crown.

Although Griffith's 147-pound title will not be at stake in the nationally televised 10-rounder at Pittsburgh's Civic Arena, the speedy champ from New York says:

"My reputation will be on the line. The Boxing Writers' Association voted me fighter of the year and I must prove they're right by knocking him out."

Muscular Carter of Paterson, N.J., stroked his drooping pirate's mustache thoughtfully and explained that Griffith was a "proud" man before he was named "fighter of the year," and now he's so proud he'll force the fight lest he be accused of running away.

"And I'll knock out anybody who comes at me. Yeah! He's just gotta go!"

Neither would pick a round for his kayo. Each merely promised to "take him out" as soon as possible.

However, the betting is 11-5 that they're both wrong and that the bout lasts its scheduled 10 heats. Also the betting is 2-1 that Griffith wins the fight no matter how long it lasts.

Their fight contract prevents either from weighing more than 157 pounds. Carter, 26, expects to hit about 156¾. Griffith, 24, will register about 152.

Promoter Archie Litman has offered to guarantee middleweight champion Joey Giardello $75,000 with the privilege of 40 per cent of all net revenue for a title defense against the winner in Pittsburgh on April 3.

Carmen Tedeschi, the wealthy New Jersey building contractor who manages Carter says, "When Rubin knocks out Griffith, I'll be ready to guarantee Giardello $100,000 for a defense against him. That'll be no problem for me."

Members of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission are also planning to ask the World Boxing Association to order Giardello of Cherry Hill, N.J., to make his first defense against Friday's winner.

Giardello says he has a gentleman's agreement for a first defense against Dick Tiger of Nigeria, from whom he won the title at Atlantic City Dec. 7. But John J. "Harp" Vaughan, Pittsburgh member of the Pennsylvania commission says, "the World Boxing Association has an official ban against return title bouts in its rules. We want it enforced."

Emile is two years younger than Carter, he has had exactly twice as many professional fights — 42—as Carter's 21. Griffith's 38-4-0 record includes 13 knockouts and he never was stopped.

Carter's 17-4-0 include 11 knockouts, the best of which was his first-round kayo of middleweight contender Florentino Fernandez in October, 1961.

St. Patrick's, St. Mary's Cop Second CYL Wins

St. Patrick's trimmed St. Michael's, 53-33, and St. Mary's walloped Mt. Savage, 57-13, for their second straight Catholic Youth League victories last night at SS. Peter and Paul gymnasium.

SS. Peter and Paul defeated St. Ambrose, 52-39, in the other game of the tripleheader on the Fayette Street court.

Glenn Cross collected 18 points and Ricky Scaletta checked in with 14 as the Fighting Irish dealt the Frostburgers their first loss. Cross and Mike Malloy led St. Patrick's in the rebounding department. Bobby Arnold was St. Michael's best with a dozen tallies.

St. Mary's had a shutout going at halftime, leading 42-0, then cleared the bench in the second half. Twelve players scored for the Gaels, with Clarke's 16 points heading the parade. Carter and Beal shared eight of the loser's markers.

Kyle Geatz hooped 12 points and Kevin Mattingly and Jack Willits tossed in ten apiece for the Flying Dutchmen, who evened their record at 1-1. Mike Kane and Steve Habersack accounted for 25 of the Cresaptown quint's total.

Komives Leads College Scorers

Bowling Green Star Has 35.5 Average

NEW YORK (AP) — Howard Komives, a 6-1 guard from Bowling Green, is the scoring leader in the first set of weekly major college basketball statistics released Thursday by the NCAA. Komives is averaging 35.5 points a game.

The small senior, who was 45th last season with a 20.2 average, is one of nine players in the country averaging better than 30 points a game this season, as basketball scores mount throughout the nation.

However, both Nick Werkman of Seton Hall and Barry Kramer of NYU who finished 1-2 last year in the tightest scoring race in history, are out of the top ten. Werkman is 12th with 28.8. Kramer 38th with 23.6.

The figures cover games through Dec. 14.

Loyola of Chicago, team scoring champion the last two seasons, leads that department again, at 104.4 points per game. Temple is the defense leader, holding opponents to 49.3.

Philadelphia Will Remain Army-Navy Site

Contract Signed For Three Years

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— The 100,000 - seat Philadelphia Stadium will continue as the site of the annual Army-Navy football classic for at least the next three years.

The game has been played in Philadelphia every year since 1932, except during the war years of 1942-43-44, when it was at either Annapolis or West Point.

City officials confirmed that athletic directors at West Point and Annapolis signed a new contract last spring, after efforts by Chicago to get the game shifted to that city's Soldier Field.

A spokesman for Mayor James H. J. Tate said the city is seeking to have Army move its 1964 game with Penn State from West Point to the stadium, and also its 1965 game with Air Force Academy.

Washington and New Jersey City also are bidding for those games, the spokesman said. This year's Army-Air Force game was played in Chicago.

The annual games reportedly bring about $2 million in business to the city.

West Virginia's Hunting Season Extends To Jan. 25

Nimrods May Bag Rabbits, Quail, Ruffed Grouse

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) — State Natural Resources Director Warden Lane announced Thursday the extension of the hunting season on rabbits, quail and ruffed grouse through Jan. 25.

He said it would provide hunters with 18 additional days of hunting. The decision was made to make up for 14 hunting days lost from mid - October through Nov. 2. The season was suspended then due to serious forest fire conditions.

The rabbit and ruffed grouse extension is effective for all counties with the exception of Pendleton, Pocahontas and Randolph and those portions of Nicholas and Webster Counties east of W. Va. 20.

The extended season on quail is valid for only Mason, Cabell and Wayne Counties in the west, he said, and for Berkeley and Jefferson Counties in the east.

Hunting in all other counties will close as scheduled in the 1963 hunting regulations, Lane said. He noted 1964 hunting licenses will be required after Dec. 31.

Rams Sign Scotti As Free Agent

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams added punch to their defense backfield Thursday when they signed as a free agent Ben Scotti, recently released by the Philadelphia Eagles.

The 186-pound Scotti and an Eagle teammate, 262 - pound John Mellekas, were suspended last November after engaging in a fight.

Scotti, 26, a five-year veteran in the National Football League, broke in with the Washington Redskins in 1959 and was traded in 1962 to Philadelphia. He attended the University of Maryland and lives in Long Branch, N. J.

ACC Trojans Top Hagerstown, 87-74, Face Potomac State Tonight

Wilson Paces Unbeaten Quint With 32 Points

Allegany Equals Entire Victory Total Of 1962-63

Pat Wilson cut loose for 32 points last night as unbeaten Allegany Community College scored an 87-74 victory over Hagerstown Junior College in a Tri-State Conference tussle in the Hub City.

The Trojans, who have disposed of their first five opponents, face their biggest test of the season tonight at home against Potomac State. The latter team has reeled off four in a row since losing to Johnstown Junior College, 95-85, and is 5-1 overall.

Potomac State downed ACC twice last season when they began their series, but the Trojans have a vastly improved club and rate on equal terms with the Catamounts.

Lost 16 Last Year

The victory over HJC equalled the Trojans' entire win total of last season, when they were on the losing end in 16 of 21 games.

Last night's contest was all knotted at intermission, 38-38, but ACC gained the upper hand early in the second half and led the rest of the way.

Wilson turned in the school's highest individual point effort of the campaign hitting on 14 shots from the floor and four of six free throw attempts.

Larry Snyder and Jimmy Bell collected 12 points apiece and Gary Shook added ten for the Trojans, who placed ten men in the scoring column.

Hill Leads Nighthawks

Five players did double-digiting duty for the Nighthawks, led by Ronnie Hill with 24 tallies. Kenny Ridenour contributed 16, Jim McGinniss and Basil Armstrong canned 11 each and Sam Gross had ten.

The defeat was the seventh in nine games for the Hagerstown cagers, including a 78-62 setback at the hands of Potomac State.

Beall Notches Fourth PVC Win At Fort Ashby

Final Period Spurt Sinks Eagles, 60-49

Breaking a closely contested game wide with an 18-point spiurge in the final period, Beall High School's Mountaineers registered their fourth victory in five outings by defeating Fort Ashby High School's Eagles last night at Fort Ashby by the score of 60-49.

Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's Mountaineers held a one-point edge at the quarter, 12-11, led by two points, 32-30, at intermission and were out in front 42-40 as the final period got under way. In the last stanza, Beall outpointed the Eagles, 18 to 9.

Beall dumped in 24 field goals while limiting the home team to 15. The Eagles shot 76 per cent at the foul line, hooping 19 of 25 free throws while Beall converted 12 of 24 toses.

John Smouse and Ron Frazier headed the Beall attack with 18 and 16 points, respectively, while Dennis Bartlett contributed ten tallies. Ray Knotts with 12 points and Dick Lark with ten were Fort Ashby's leading scorers.

Beall's record is 4-1 in the Potomac Valley Conference. Fort Ashby is 3-3 overall and 2-3 in the conference.

The Mountaineer's next game is with Bruce at Westernport January 3. Fort Ashby plays the Alumni Saturday.

Fort Ashby's junior varsity defeated Beall in the preliminary game, 59-33.

Sugar Robinson Returns From Tour

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sugar Ray Robinson, the 43-year-old former world middleweight and welterweight boxing champion, returned to the United States Thursday after a European boxing tour and said he would attend the Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay heavyweight title bout in February.

Robinson predicted a "rough fight" in the Miami title clash but refused to pick a winner.

He said he will go to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, in January for a fight and then return to Europe in April for three months, during which he will fight the junior middleweight champion Europe at Milan, Italy, in May.

Rangers Farm Trio To Clippers

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Rangers of the National Hockey League dispatched three youngsters to their Baltimore farm team in the American League Thursday.

Leaving New York are goaltender Gilles Villemure and forwards Gordon Labossiere and Dave Richardson. Villemure played three games in place of Jacques Plante, losing two and tying one. Labossiere and Richardson were both scoreless.

Earl Ingarfield, out six games with a head injury and rookie Marc Dufour, who missed one game because of a charley horse, are expected back for Sunday's game with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Jack London Dies, Ex-Boxing Champ

BLACKPOOL, England (UPI) — Jack London, former British and empire heavyweight boxing champion, was found dead at his home here Thursday night.

The body of the 49-year old former champion was found by his son, Brian, who was visiting his father. Brian himself won the British heavyweight crown in 1958 and later lost a world title bout with Floyd Patterson.

London, whose real name was Harper, won his titles in 1944 when he beat Freddie Mills in an elimination bout. He lost both titles one year later when he was knocked out by Bruce Woodcock in the sixth round in London.

Lattimer, Elliott Handle Petersburg Tourney Dec. 27-28

Charles Lattimer and "Pete" Elliott have been named to officiate in the fourth annual Holiday Basketball Tournament at Petersburg High School, Friday and Saturday, December 27 and 28.

Petersburg will play Franklin at 7 p.m., and Moorefield will oppose Circleville in the second game on opening night. The championship contest Saturday night will follow the 7 o'clock consolation tilt.

Terrors Triumph

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — A driving Western Maryland team relying on fast breaks outclassed Gallaudet Thursday night and rolled to a 96-72 Mason-Dixon Conference basketball victory.

Richie Eigen paced the Green Terrors, sinking 11 baskets from the floor and making 3 of 4 free throws good.

Shingleton Gets 28, Falcons Win, 108-98

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UPI)—Stan Shingleton and Dwight Conoway combined efforts here Thursday night for 55 points to lead Fairmont College to a 108-98 victory over Glenville in a West Virginia Conference game.

Shingleton had 28 and Conoway 27 while the loser's Clark Diley scored 36 points to no avail.

Duke Wins, 84-73

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—Duke's fifth-ranked Blue Devils, finding the going surprisingly rough in search of their sixth victory, beat Virginia 84-73 in an Atlantic Coast Conference basketball game Thursday night.

ACC Trojans Top Hagerstown, 87-74, Face Potomac State Tonight

Allegany Equals Entire Victory Total Of 1962-63

Pat Wilson cut loose for 32 points last night as unbeaten Allegany Community College scored an 87-74 victory over Hagerstown Junior College in a Tri-State Conference tussle in the Hub City.

The Trojans, who have disposed of their first five opponents, face their biggest test of the season tonight at home against Potomac State. The latter team has reeled off four in a row since losing to Johnstown Junior College, 95-85, and is 5-1 overall.

Potomac State downed ACC twice last season when they began their series, but the Trojans have a vastly improved club and rate on equal terms with the Catamounts.

Lost 16 Last Year

The victory over HJC equalled the Trojans' entire win total of last season, when they were on the losing end in 16 of 21 games.

Last night's contest was all knotted at intermission, 38-38, but ACC gained the upper hand early in the second half and led the rest of the way.

Wilson turned in the school's highest individual point effort of the campaign hitting on 14 shots from the floor and four of six free throw attempts.

Larry Snyder and Jimmy Bell collected 12 points apiece and Gary Shook added ten for the Trojans, who placed ten men in the scoring column.

Hill Leads Nighthawks

Five players did double-digiting duty for the Nighthawks, led by Ronnie Hill with 24 tallies. Kenny Ridenour contributed 16, Jim McGinniss and Basil Armstrong canned 11 each and Sam Gross had ten.

The defeat was the seventh in nine games for the Hagerstown cagers, including a 78-62 setback at the hands of Potomac State.

Beall Notches Fourth PVC Win At Fort Ashby

Final Period Spurt Sinks Eagles, 60-49

Breaking a closely contested game wide with an 18-point splurge in the final period, Beall High School's Mountaineers registered their fourth victory in five outings by defeating Fort Ashby High School's Eagles last night at Fort Ashby by the score of 60-49.

Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's Mountaineers held a one-point edge at the quarter, 12-11, led by two points, 32-30, at intermission and were out in front 42-40 as the final period got under way. In the last stanza, Beall outpointed the Eagles, 18 to 9.

Beall dumped in 24 field goals while limiting the home team to 15. The Eagles shot 76 per cent at the foul line, hooping 19 of 25 free throws while Beall converted 12 of 24 toses.

John Smouse and Ron Frazier headed the Beall attack with 18 and 16 points, respectively, while Dennis Bartlett contributed ten tallies. Ray Knotts with 12 points and Dick Lark with ten were Fort Ashby's leading scorers.

Beall's record is 4-1 in the Potomac Valley Conference. Fort Ashby is 3-3 overall and 2-3 in the conference.

The Mountaineer's next game is with Bruce at Westernport January 3. Fort Ashby plays the Alumni Saturday.

Fort Ashby's junior varsity defeated Beall in the preliminary game, 59-33.

Sugar Robinson Returns From Tour

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sugar Ray Robinson, the 43-year-old former world middleweight and welterweight boxing champion, returned to the United States Thursday after a European boxing tour and said he would attend the Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay heavyweight title bout in February.

Robinson predicted a "rough fight" in the Miami title clash but refused to pick a winner.

He said he will go to Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, in January for a fight and then return to Europe in April for three months, during which he will fight the junior middleweight champion Europe at Milan, Italy, in May.

Rangers Farm Trio To Clippers

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Rangers of the National Hockey League dispatched three youngsters to their Baltimore farm team in the American League Thursday.

Leaving New York are goaltender Gilles Villemure and forwards Gordon Labossiere and Dave Richardson. Villemure played three games in place of Jacques Plante, losing two and tying one. Labossiere and Richardson were both scoreless.

Earl Ingarfield, out six games with a head injury and rookie Marc Dufour, who missed one game because of a charley horse, are expected back for Sunday's game with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Jack London Dies, Ex-Boxing Champ

BLACKPOOL, England (UPI) — Jack London, former British and empire heavyweight boxing champion, was found dead at his home here Thursday night.

The body of the 49-year old former champion was found by his son, Brian, who was visiting his father. Brian himself won the British heavyweight crown in 1958 and later lost a world title bout with Floyd Patterson.

London, whose real name was Harper, won his titles in 1944 when he beat Freddie Mills in an elimination bout. He lost both titles one year later when he was knocked out by Bruce Woodcock in the sixth round in London.

Lattimer, Elliott Handle Petersburg Tourney Dec. 27-28

Charles Lattimer and "Pete" Elliott have been named to officiate in the fourth annual Holiday Basketball Tournament at Petersburg High School, Friday and Saturday, December 27 and 28.

Petersburg will play Franklin at 7 p.m., and Moorefield will oppose Circleville in the second game on opening night. The championship contest Saturday night will follow the 7 o'clock consolation tilt.

Maris Takes First Salary Cut Of Career

Yanks Sign Roger To $65,000 Pact

NEW YORK (UPI)—Home run record-holder Roger Maris took the first pay cut of his baseball career Thursday when he signed a 1964 contract with the New York Yankees for an estimated $65,000.

General Manager Ralph Houk first described the cut as "reasonable" and then conceded it was "in the area of 10 per cent" lower than the peak Maris attained the last two seasons after shattering the all-time homer mark with 61 in 1961.

"It was fair," Roger admitted in a telephone interview from his home at Independence, Mo. "The kind of year I had last year didn't rate me a raise or even the same money. It's the first cut I ever took.

"I hope I can win it back but I sure can't try any harder than I did last year."

Maris, sidelined at various times by 10 different injuries, played only 90 games for the Yankees in 1963. He hit 23 home runs, drove in 53 and batted .269—the same average he had in '61 when he homered 61 times, drove in 142 runs and won his second Most Valuable Player award.

Houk said Roger's first injury of the year may have shaped his entire season. He didn't say so but that may have prevented him from applying the full slash of 25 per cent on the 29-year-old outfielder's salary. Maris missed the first seven days of the season after pulling a hamstring muscle on April 1 while making a running catch in an exhibition game against Detroit.

"All the good ball players go all out in spring training, said Houk, "and Roger is no exception. His catch with the bases loaded turned into a double play and won the game for us. But his injury probably shaped his entire season."

Fearer Schedule Revised Following Team's Withdrawal

The withdrawal of a team from the Fearer Memorial Basketball League has necessitated revision of the schedule and standings in the Frostburg Sunday school circuit.

English Baptist dropped out of the Fearer League last week after losing its only two starts to St. Joseph's and Eckhart Baptist. Those victories have been erased from the records of St. Joseph's (2-0) and Eckhart Baptist (0-3).

The league will operate with 14 teams for the remainder of the season, with all of the clubs selcing action every Saturday instead of one club drawing a bye each week.

Saturday's schedule:

AT FROSTBURG STATE

9:00 a.m.—Congregational vs. Eckhart Baptist; Frostburg Methodist vs. Eckhart Methodist.

9:55 a.m.—Cresaptown Methodist vs. Cresaptown Baptist; Welsh Memorial vs. St. Paul's.

AT BEALL HIGH

9:00 a.m.—Zihlman vs. Presbyterian.

9:55 a.m.—Midland Methodist vs. St. Joseph's.

10:40 a.m.—St. Michael's vs. Salem

Aronholt Honored Wilson Near Record

Altoona On Rampage Jackets Shake Jinx

By C. V. BURNS

"CHUCK" ARONHOLT, former Allegany High School lineman, was named at a guard position on the Baltimore Sun's 1963 All-Maryland Small College football team.

Aronholt was the only Johns Hopkins player named on the first team which was dominated by Morgan State and Western Maryland College players. At Allegany, he played under coach Chet Payne in 1957 and Ed Schwarz was his coach in 1958 and 1959.

"Chuck" is a senior, is 5-foot-9, and tips the beam at 170. His father, Charles E. "Chunky" Aronholt, 863 Gephart Drive, was a grid star at Keyser High School and played with the 1927 Golden Tornado that posted a 9-0 record and help opposing teams to a single touchdown.

Charley Robinson, of Frostburg State, made an honorable mention spot. The former Fort Hill gridder was regarded as one of the best quarterbacks in the small college ranks and might have made the first team if injuries had not kept him idle early in the season.

ALLEGANY'S Steve Vandenberg hung up a new one season scoring record for the W.M.I. Basketball League in 1962-63 when he scored 260 points in 10 games and another record could go by the boards during the coming campaign if Ralph Wilson, the Mt. Savage senior sharpshooter, can score 107 or more points.

Ernie Schramm, of Barton, rang up 705 points over four seasons (1923-1926) and this mark has been on the books 38 years.

Wilson enters his fourth season of play with 599 points—162 in 1961, 216 in 1962 and 221 in 1963 and if he stays healthy his 4-year total should exceed the 705 mark.

Bobby Robertson, Wilson's teammate, has scored 508 points over three seasons of W.M.I. League play.

ALTOONA High School's Mountain Lions, who oppose Allegany's Campers in the opening game of the Jaffa Mosque tournament one week from tonight at 7 o'clock, racked up their fifth straight victory Tuesday night by trimming Ambridge High School at the latter place, 68-52.

Last Friday evening, Coach Frank Mastrocola's Lions knocked off Erie Academy, 68-52.

The Blair countians lost their first two games of the season and then took the next five.

Allegany's last game before the tournament is with Keyser High School at Campbell's tomorrow night.

MOUNTAINEER High School of Davis, W. Va., which posted an 8-1-1 record this year, landed three players on the West Virginia Class A all-state selections.

Milton Evans was named a guard on the second time, Quarterback Steve DiBacco made the third time and Ron Stuart, an end, received honorable mention.

Evans weighs only 125 pounds but was regarded as the spark-plug of the Mountaineer defense.

WHEN the Moorefield High School Yellowjackets defeated Circleville 67-55 Tuesday night it was the first victory the Yellowjackets scored at home in two years.

Last season, Moorefield turned in a 2-20 record and both wins were scored away from home at Wardensville and Circleville.

Tuesday's win shook the Jackets' 12-game home floor losing jinx. Their last win at home was recorded in the sectional tournament finals at the expense of Circleville in February, 1962.

MANY THANKS to Harris W. LeFew, public relations manager of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company for a copy of that fine Dedication Program for the Pro Football Hall of Fame at Canton, Ohio.

The 66-page album was printed on paper made at the Luke Mill. The cover was printed on 100# Sterling Litho-Gloss and the text pages on 70# Velvo-Web Gloss.

We really enjoyed browsing through the copy and pictures of the grid greats such as Red Grange, Jim Thorpe, Wilbur "Fats" Henry, Ernie Nevers, Cal Hubbard, Bronko Nagurski, Don Hutson, "Dutch" Clark, Sammy Baugh, John Blood McNally, Mel Hein, etc.

BOB WHIP, who will be remembered as the manager and publicist of the Cumberland Dukes, local pro cage team of bygone days, sends Christmas greetings and states this is his twelfth year of never having missed a Baltimore Colts or Orioles game.

Whip approves of the trades made by the Orioles thus far and looks for a big year for Willie Kirkland.

Bob, incidentally, lives behind the Baltimore Stadium.

ONE of the New York Yankees' relief stars of the Babe Ruth days died the other day at Toledo, Ohio, when Myles Thomas passed on.

Thomas was with the Yankees from 1926 to 1929 and finished his major league career at Washington in 1930. He pitched in 67 games for New York, mostly in relief, in the days of Ruth, Gehrig, Lazzeri, Combs, Meusel, Dugan, Pennock, Pipgas, Shawkey, Shocker, Hoyt, Jones, Koenig, Moore, etc.

Myles managed the Toledo Mud Hens in 1938.

During the off seasons he made his home with relatives at Altoona, Pa.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE: The Rec League box score that came to this office headed Civil War Vets. It should have been Catholic War Vets.

HARRY MEHRE, the ex-Notre Dame football star, tells this one about the time he was coaching at the University of Georgia.

"I had a lifetime contract," relates Mehre," and one day I woke up to read I'd been fired."

"I can't be fired," I stormed at my critics, "My contract is for life."

"We've just declared you legally dead," was the retort.

THE sports information office at the University of North Carolina the other day received a request from a prison in Florida.

One of the inmates sought information on the Tar Heels football team.

"You've got a lot of followers inside the walls," he wrote. "We wish you the best of luck at the Gator Bowl and will be pulling for you."

Coach Jim Hickey says he is in favor of giving the guy a pardon.

Staubach Wins Maxwell Award

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Roger Staubach, Navy's All-America quarterback, Thursday was named winner of the annual Maxwell Football Club award as the outstanding college football player in the nation for 1963.

Staubach, who directed the Navy to a 9-1 season, a victory over traditional rival Army, and a berth in the New Year's Day Cotton Bowl game against Texas, will be honored at the Maxwell banquet Feb. 3.

The club also fetes its selection as the outstanding professional football player, awarding the Bert Bell Memorial Trophy in honor of the late commissioner of the National Football League. This selection has not yet been announced.

Two Groups Planning To Picket Bowl Game

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and at least one other negro organization announced Thursday they would picket the Liberty Bowl game Saturday between Mississippi State and North Carolina State.

Cecil Moore, head of the local NAACP, said that action would be taken because of Misqissippi's refusal to integrate. Gov. Ross Barnett's campaign against integration and the state's "continued persecution of its negro citizens, and the unjust slaying of Medgar Evers."

Another group, the Friends of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, said their members would picket the game, the office of Bud Dudley, promotor of the annual contest, and the hotel where the Mississippi State team is staying.

Red Wings Win, 3-0

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings, with young Roger Crozier turning in his first shutout to keep his perfect National Hockey League record intact, stretched their unbeaten string to five straight Thursday by whipping the Boston Bruins, 3-0.

Pit Martin and Alex Delvecchio each slammed in a goal late in the second period and that was enough for Crozier, who has allowed just 10 goals in his five NHL starts.

Colts Sign Tackle

BALTIMORE (AP) — Charles Parker, tackle from Southern Mississippi, has signed a National Football League contract, the Baltimore Colts said Thursday.

Parker, whose home is in Chickasaw, Ala., was drafted 13th by the Colts this year. The 232-pounder will be tried at guard and linebacker.

Ski Conditions Good On W. Va. Slopes

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) —The first ski report put out this season by the State Department of Natural Resources showed that snow conditions were good at the state's major slopes.

In Tucker County, where the State Road Commission reported 14 inches of snow on Thursday, Weiss Knob and Cabin Mountain, near Davis, will be open this weekend.

Also open this weekend will be Chestnut Ridge near Morgantown, Bald Knob near Beckley and Oglebay Park in Wheeling.

Gratton's Holiday Safe Driving Hints

ALLOW ENOUGH TIME. Whether going downtown or on a trip, allow time to avoid feeling rushed. On long trips, make frequent stops. Arrive relaxed.

HAVE YOUR CAR CHECKED. Drive with good tires and properly adjusted brakes. Make sure lights, turn signals and windshield wipers function properly.

USE SEAT BELTS. They help save lives, prevent injuries. Seconds will buckle a belt; a flick of the wrist will release it. Use them whenever and wherever you drive or ride.

BE ALERT TO HAZARDS. Adjust your driving to road, traffic and weather conditions. Give yourself and others an extra margin of safety.

USE COURTESY ABUNDANTLY. Everywhere — at intersections, while passing or being passed, at night when your headlights are on high beam — "Make Courtesy Your Code Of The Road." It pays!

FOLLOW THE RULES OF THE ROAD. Signs, signals and road markings are your guides to a safe, enjoyable drive around town or on a long trip.

Maris Takes First Salary Cut Of Career

Yanks Sign Roger To $65,000 Pact

NEW YORK (UPI)—Home run record-holder Roger Maris took the first pay cut of his baseball career Thursday when he signed a 1964 contract with the New York Yankees for an estimated $65,000.

General Manager Ralph Houk first described the cut as "reasonable" and then conceded it was "in the area of 10 per cent" lower than the peak Maris attained the last two seasons after shattering the all-time homer mark with 61 in 1961.

"It was fair," Roger admitted in a telephone interview from his home at Independence, Mo. "The kind of year I had last year didn't rate me a raise or even the same money. It's the first cut I ever took.

"I hope I can win it back but I sure can't try any harder than I did last year."

Maris, sidelined at various times by 10 different injuries, played only 90 games for the Yankees in 1963. He hit 23 home runs, drove in 53 and batted .269—the same average he had in '61 when he homered 61 times, drove in 142 runs and won his second Most Valuable Player award.

Houk said Roger's first injury of the year may have shaped his entire season. He didn't say so but that may have prevented him from applying the full slash of 25 per cent on the 29-year-old outfielder's salary. Maris missed the first seven days of the season after pulling a hamstring muscle on April 1 while making a running catch in an exhibition game against Detroit.

"All the good ball players go all out in spring training, said Houk, "and Roger is no exception. His catch with the bases loaded turned into a double play and won the game for us. But his injury probably shaped his entire season."

Fearer Schedule Revised Following Team's Withdrawal

The withdrawal of a team from the Fearer Memorial Basketball League has necessitated revision of the schedule and standings in the Frostburg Sunday school circuit.

English Baptist dropped out of the Fearer League last week after losing its only two starts to St. Joseph's and Eckhart Baptist. Those victories have been erased from the records of St. Joseph's (2-0) and Eckhart Baptist (0-3).

The league will operate with 14 teams for the remainder of the season, with all of the clubs seicing action every Saturday instead of one club drawing a bye each week.

Saturday's schedule:

AT FROSTBURG STATE

9:00 a.m.—Congregational vs. Eckhart Baptist; Frostburg Metho. t Va. Eckhart Methodist.

9:55 a.m.—Cresaptown Methodist vs. Cresaptown Baptist; Welsh Memorial vs. St. Paul's.

AT BEALL HIGH

9:00 a.m.—Zihlman vs. Presbyterian.

9:55 a.m.—Midland Methodist vs. St. Joseph's.

10:40 a.m.—St. Michael's vs. Salem.

Aronholt Honored Wilson Near Record

Altoona On Rampage Jackets Shake Jinx

By C. V. BURNS

"CHUCK" ARONHOLT, former Allegany High School lineman, was named at a guard position on the Baltimore Sun's 1963 All-Maryland Small College football team.

Aronholt was the only Johns Hopkins player named on the first team which was dominated by Morgan State and Western Maryland College players. At Allegany, he played under coach Chet Payne in 1957 and Ed Schwarz was his coach in 1958 and 1959.

"Chuck" is a senior, is 5-foot-9, and tips the beam at 170. His father, Charles E. "Chunky" Aronholt, 863 Gephart Drive, was a grid star at Keyser High School and played with the 1927 Golden Tornado that posted a 9-0 record and help opposing teams to a single touchdown.

Charley Robinson, of Frostburg State, made an honorable mention spot. The former Fort Hill gridder was regarded as one of the best quarterbacks in the small college ranks and might have made the first team if injuries had not kept him idle early in the season.

ALLEGANY'S Steve Vandenberg hung up a new one season scoring record for the W.M.I. Basketball League in 1962-63 when he scored 260 points in 10 games and another record could go by the boards during the coming campaign if Ralph Wilson, the Mt. Savage senior sharpshooter, can score 107 or more points.

Ernie Schramm, of Barton, rang up 705 points over four seasons (1923-1926) and this mark has been on the books 38 years.

Wilson enters his fourth season of play with 599 points—162 in 1961, 216 in 1962 and 221 in 1963 and if he stays healthy his 4-year total should exceed the 705 mark.

Bobby Robertson, Wilson's teammate, has scored 508 points over three seasons of W.M.I. League play.

ALTOONA High School's Mountain Lions, who oppose Allegany's Campers in the opening game of the Jaffa Mosque tournament one week from tonight at 7 o'clock, racked up their fifth straight victory Tuesday night by trimming Ambridge High School at the latter place, 68-52.

Last Friday evening, Coach Frank Mastrocola's Lions knocked off Erie Academy, 68-52.

The Blair countians lost their first two games of the season and then took the next five.

Allegany's last game before the tournament is with Keyser High School at Campbell's tomorrow night.

MOUNTAINEER High School of Davis, W. Va., which posted an 8-1-1 record this year, landed three players on the West Virginia Class A all-state selections.

Milton Evans was named a guard on the second time, Quarterback Steve DiBacco made the third time and Ron Stuart, an end, received honorable mention.

Evans weighs only 125 pounds but was regarded as the spark-plug of the Mountaineer defense.

WHEN the Moorefield High School Yellowjackets defeated Circleville 67-55 Tuesday night it was the first victory the Yellowjackets scored at home in two years.

Last season, Moorefield turned in a 2-20 record and both wins were scored away from home at Wardensville and Circleville.

Tuesday's win shook the Jackets' 12-game home floor losing jinx. Their last win at home was recorded in the sectional tournament finals at the expense of Circleville in February, 1962.

MANY THANKS to Harris W. LeFew, public relations manager of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company for a copy of that fine Dedication Program for the Pro Football Hall of Fame at Canton, Ohio.

We really enjoyed browsing through the copy and pictures of the grid greats such as Red Grange, Jim Thorpe, Wilbur "Fats" Henry, Ernie Nevers, Cal Hubbard, Bronko Nagurski, Don Hutson, "Dutch" Clark, Sammy Baugh, John Blood McNally, Mel Hein, etc.

BOB WHIP, who will be remembered as the manager and publicist of the Cumberland Dukes, local pro cage team of bygone days, sends Christmas greetings and states this is his twelfth year of never having missed a Baltimore Colts or Orioles game.

Whip approves of the trades made by the Orioles thus far and looks for a big year for Willie Kirkland.

Bob, incidentally, lives behind the Baltimore Stadium.

ONE of the New York Yankees' relief stars of the Babe Ruth days died the other day at Toledo, Ohio, when Myles Thomas passed on.

Thomas was with the Yankees from 1926 to 1929 and finished his major league career at Washington in 1930. He pitched in 67 games for New York, mostly in relief, in the days of Ruth, Gehrig, Lazzeri, Combs, Meusel, Dugan, Pennock, Pipgas, Shawkey, Shocker, Hoyt, Jones, Koenig, Moore, etc.

Myles managed the Toledo Mud Hens in 1938.

During the off seasons he made his home with relatives at Altoona, Pa.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE: The Rec League box score that came to this office headed Civil War Vets. It should have been Catholic War Vets.

HARRY MEHRE, the ex-Notre Dame football star, tells this one about the time he was coaching at the University of Georgia.

"I had a lifetime contract," relates Mehre," and one day I woke up to read I'd been fired."

"I can't be fired," I stormed at my critics, "My contract is for life."

"We've just declared you legally dead," was the retort.

THE sports information office at the University of North Carolina the other day received a request from a prison in Florida.

One of the inmates sought information on the Tar Heels football team.

"You've got a lot of followers inside the walls," he wrote. "We wish you the best of luck at the Gator Bowl and will be pulling for you."

Staubach Wins Maxwell Award

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Roger Staubach, Navy's All-America quarterback, Thursday was named winner of the annual Maxwell Football Club award as the outstanding college football player in the nation for 1963.

Staubach, who directed the Navy to a 9-1 season, a victory over traditional rival Army, and a berth in the New Year's Day Cotton Bowl game against Texas, will be honored at the Maxwell banquet Feb. 3.

The club also fetes its selection as the outstanding professional football player, awarding the Bert Bell Memorial Trophy in honor of the late commissioner of the National Football League. This selection has not yet been announced.

Two Groups Planning To Picket Bowl Game

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) and at least one other negro organization announced Thursday they would picket the Liberty Bowl game Saturday between Mississippi State and North Carolina State.

Cecil Moore, head of the local NAACP, said that action would be taken because of Misqissippi's refusal to integrate. Gov. Ross Barnett's campaign against integration and the state's "continued persecution of its negro citizens, and the unjust slaying of Medgar Evers."

Another group, the Friends of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, said their members would picket the game, the office of Bud Dudley, promotor of the annual contest, and the hotel where the Mississippi State team is staying.

Red Wings Win, 3-0

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Red Wings, with young Roger Crozier turning in his first shutout to keep his perfect National Hockey League record intact, stretched their unbeaten string to five straight Thursday by whipping the Boston Bruins, 3-0.

Pit Martin and Alex Delveechio each slammed in a goal late in the second period and that was enough for Crozier, who has allowed just 10 goals in his five NHL starts.

Ski Conditions Good On W. Va. Slopes

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) —The first ski report put out this season by the State Department of Natural Resources showed that snow conditions were good at the state's major slopes.

In Tucker County, where the State Road Commission reported 14 inches of snow on Thursday, Weiss Knob and Cabin Mountain, near Davis, will be open this weekend.

Also open this weekend will be Chestnut Ridge near Morgantown, Bald Knob near Beckley and Oglebay Park in Wheeling.

Gratton's Holiday Safe Driving Hints

ALLOW ENOUGH TIME. Whether going downtown or on a trip, allow time to avoid feeling rushed. On long trips, make frequent stops. Arrive relaxed.
HAVE YOUR CAR CHECKED. Drive with good tires and properly adjusted brakes. Make sure lights, turn signals and windshield wipers function properly.
USE SEAT BELTS. They help save lives, prevent injuries. Seconds will buckle a belt; a flick of the wrist will release it. Use them whenever and wherever you drive or ride.
BE ALERT TO HAZARDS. Adjust your driving to road, traffic and weather conditions. Give yourself and others an extra margin of safety.
USE COURTESY ABUNDANTLY. Everywhere — at intersections, while passing or being passed, at night when your headlights are on high beam — "Make Courtesy Your Code Of The Road." It pays!
FOLLOW THE RULES OF THE ROAD. Signs, signals and road markings are your guides to a safe, enjoyable drive around town or on a long trip.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of William "Hamey" Atkinson who passed away 3 years ago today, December 20th, 1960.
Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall
You had a kindly word for all
And died beloved by all
We miss you now, our hearts are sore
As time goes by we miss you more
Your loving smile, your gentle face
No one can fill your empty place.
Sadly missed by:
Wife & Children

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Nellie Porter Wright who passed on 20 years ago today, December 20, 1943.
A star is shining very bright
We wait for it most every night
The rays it sends down seem to say
I've guarded you through this day
Our paths shall meet again in time
When we will greet you there
Your mind was open, your back was strong
With all our burdens you seemed to share
Now when night begins to fall
That's when we miss you most of all.
Still sadly missed by
Doug, Helen, Thelma, Betty & Ruth

In sad but loving memory of Ralph F. Knippenberg who died 6 years ago, December 20, 1957.
No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered. Since we lost you
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true;
There is not a day, dear father,
That we do not think of you.
Sadly missed by wife, Anna Knippenberg, Daughters & Grandchildren

In Memoriam

In loving memory of William "Hamey" Atkinson who passed away 3 years ago today, December 20th, 1960.
Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall
You had a kindly word for all
And died beloved by all
We miss you now, our hearts are sore
As time goes by we miss you more
Your loving smile, your gentle face
No one can fill your empty place.
Sadly missed by:
Wife & Children

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Nellie Porter Wright who passed on 20 years ago today, December 20, 1943.
A star is shining very bright
We wait for it most every night
The rays it sends down seem to say
I've guarded you through this day
Our paths shall meet again in time
When we will greet you there
Your mind was open, your back was strong
With all our burdens you seemed to share
Now when night begins to fall
That's when we miss you most of all.
Still sadly missed by
Doug, Helen, Thelma, Betty & Ruth

In sad but loving memory of Ralph F. Knippenberg who died 6 years ago, December 20, 1957.
No one knows how much we miss you,
No one knows the bitter pain
We have suffered. Since we lost you
Life has never been the same.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true;
There is not a day, dear father,
That we do not think of you.
Sadly missed by wife, Anna Knippenberg, Daughters & Grandchildren

Deaths And Funeral Notices In The Tri-State Area

MRS. McCRACKEN RITES

Services for Mrs. Edythe B. McCracken, 75, former resident who died Tuesday in Mesa, Ariz., will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. at the Scarpelli Funeral Home by Rev. Robert Moales. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

The Order of the Eastern Star will conduct a service today at 7 p.m. at the funeral home.

NOTICE

Pursuant to Sections 161A-161KK of Article 23 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, the Board of Building, Savings and Loan Association Commissioners intends to adopt the following Regulation at its meeting on Thursday, January 9, 1964 at 1:30 p.m., in Room 1405 of the State Office Building, 301 West Preston Street, Baltimore, Maryland — 21201. Any interested party may submit his views either orally or in writing, at such time, provided that such party file with the Board, no later than Friday, December 27, 1963, written notice of his intention to protest.

The proposed regulation reads as follows:

108.5 FILING OF CONTINUATION, RENEWAL OR VERIFICATION CERTIFICATE

Each association shall annually file with the Department, within thirty (30) days after the premium anniversary date of its bond, a certificate from the surety or bonding company, which shall contain the following information:

1. The number of the bond.
2. The current penalty or face amount of the bond.
3. A statement that the bond is currently in full force and effect and contains the provisions required by 108.2.
4. The premium anniversary date of the bond and, if the bond is issued for a definite term, the date on which the renewal term will end.
5. The date of issuance of the certificate.
6. All certificates shall be duly signed by an authorized representative of the surety or bonding company.

108.51 In the event an association has prepaid its bond premium for a period in excess of one year, and appropriate evidence of such fact is furnished the Department, the provisions of 108.5 may be complied with by filing the certificate within thirty (30) days after the expiration of any such prepaid period.

Services for Mrs. Edythe B. McCracken, 75, former resident who died Tuesday in Mesa, Ariz., will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. at the Scarpelli Funeral Home by Rev. Robert Moales. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

The Order of the Eastern Star will conduct a service today at 7 p.m. at the funeral home.

NOTICE

Pursuant to Sections 161A-161KK of Article 23 of the Annotated Code of Maryland, the Board of Building, Savings and Loan Association Commissioners intends to adopt the following Regulation at its meeting on Thursday, January 9, 1964 at 1:30 p.m., in Room 1405 of the State Office Building, 301 West Preston Street, Baltimore, Maryland — 21201. Any interested party may submit his views either orally or in writing, at such time, provided that such party file with the Board, no later than Friday, December 27, 1963, written notice of his intention to protest.

The proposed regulation reads as follows:

108.5 FILING OF CONTINUATION, RENEWAL OR VERIFICATION CERTIFICATE

Each association shall annually file with the Department, within thirty (30) days after the premium anniversary date of its bond, a certificate from the surety or bonding company, which shall contain the following information:

1. The number of the bond.
2. The current penalty or face amount of the bond.
3. A statement that the bond is currently in full force and effect and contains the provisions required by 108.2.
4. The premium anniversary date of the bond and, if the bond is issued for a definite term, the date on which the renewal term will end.
5. The date of issuance of the cerificate.
6. All certificates shall be duly signed by an authorized representative of the surety or bonding company.

108.51 In the event an association has prepaid its bond premium for a period in excess of one year, and appropriate evidence of such fact is furnished the Department, the provisions of 108.5 may be complied with by filing the certificate within thirty (30) days after the expiration of any such prepaid period.

William Oburn Elected Head Of Chamber

1964 Objectives Are Set Forth

William H. Oburn, vice president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, yesterday was elected president of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

Other officers, elected during a luncheon meeting held yesterday, are:

Walter E. Dyck, manager of Works 7 of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, vice president; Carl O. Belt, president of Carl O. Belt, Inc., re-elected treasurer, and William L. Wilson, retiring president, automatically became a member of the Executive committee.

The Executive committee, which handles business between scheduled board meetings, will consist of Mr. Wilson, Mr. Oburn, Mr. Belt and Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Chamber.

Outlines Program

William Jenkins, Garland L. Johnston, Harry Kauffman, Francis A. Kenney, Lynn C. Lashley, Samuel Moses, W. Fred Mowen, Earl Nonnenman, C. M. Sanner, Hugh Shires, Miles Thompson, John R. Wilkinson, John Wilson and George M. Young.

Following the election, Mr. Wilson briefed directors on the highlights of his year as president and thanked members for their cooperation in the programs.

The newly elected president, Mr. Oburn, outlined major projects of the Chamber during the coming year.

Included was dam and road development, the Bloomington Dam, Rocky Gap State Park, Route 40 and the Appalachian Thruway.

He said the organization will also support zoning programs, urban renewal, a county charter study, economic education, Business Education Day, the Teacher recognition program and a study of possible additions to the area's education facilities in the technical and vocational fields.

Mr. Oburn said he plans soon to appoint chairmen for the various standing committees of the Chamber.

Plans Appointments

Present committee chairmen include Miles T. Thompson, annual dinner; A. H. Wilson, area resources and development; Carl O. Belt, budget and finance; William A. Howard, business education; John E. Geare, civic affairs; C. M. Sanner, legislative; Francis A. Kenney, roads, and Arthur Friedland, Downtown Cumberland Merchants Association.

During the session, Mr. Kenney briefed directors on the progress of the Cumberland Thruway and the proposed Appalachian Thruway.

The legislative committee, Mr. Sanner reported, has prepared a window display which will be kept up to date for use in the Chamber of Commerce windows.

"Shut-Ins" To Receive Presents

For the past 13 years Raymond "Ike" Law, left, has been sick committee chairman for Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, and a highlight of his work is the Christmas time visit to "shut-ins" at the Allegany County Infirmary and Home and to the homes of members of the council. Val Lydinger, right, grand knight of the council, is handing one of the many gifts to 'Ike' and is asking him to extend seasons greetings from the council to the "shut-ins."

Zoning Board Is Considering Three Appeals

Involve Business, Used Car Lots

Appeals to use a site in the 800 block of Frederick Street for business use and applications to locate two used car lots here were taken under advisement by the Zoning Board of Appeals.

The first appeal involved the application of George Posselt, 1220 Frederick Street, to use Lots 49-53 on Frederick Street, for business use.

Mr. Posselt said he planned to erect a brick building on the lot and to use it for his upholstery business, saying the building would improve the lot and be an asset to the area.

A number of residents of the area opposed the permit on grounds they were opposed to any further commercialization of the street.

Norbert A. Sell, 1154 Frederick Street, stressed there was nothing personal in his opposition but that he felt the location of a business there would be the first move toward commercialization of the street, which will revert to true residential use when the Cumberland Thruway takes Route 220 traffic off the street.

Doyle W. Andrews, 724 Frederick Street, presented a petition signed by residents of the area opposing the location of a business. He said residents are opposed to any change which lead to business or commercial zoning of the area.

The board promised to take all evidence into consideration before making its recommendation to the Mayor and Council.

Also heard was an appeal by Paul Steinla, manager of Hare Motor Sales, Orchard and Williams Street, to use a lot at the corner of South Mechanic and Williams Street as a used car lot.

Mr. Steinla said the firm must move from its present location and that he understood the location would be only temporary, as the land will be needed for the Cumberland Thruway.

His appeal and a similar one from Dennis W. Bobo Sr., who related plans to locate a used car lot at 501 Henderson Avenue on a lot formerly used as a gas station, were taken under advisement.

The board promised to make recommendations to the Mayor and Council after investigating the applications for the used car lots.

'Ike' Law To Play Santa At Two Institutions Here

On Sunday and Monday, Raymond "Ike" Law, genial sick committee chairman of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, will be spreading Christmas cheer with his broad, friendly smile among at least 150 senior citizen "shut-ins" of Cumberland and Allegany County.

During the past week "Ike" has been procuring Christmas gifts and corsages and arranging an appropriate holiday program which will be presented on Sunday afternoon at the County Infirmary.

The Christmas program will include dancing numbers by Dixon Studio pupils and music on the solavox by Mrs. Minnie Shaw.

On Monday he will visit the County Home and will chat with other "shut-ins" including council members prior to Christmas Day.

Two Gray Ladies of the Red Cross will accompany "Ike" to the county institutions and assist him in distributing corsages and a confection to the ladies and smokes and tobacco to the men folk.

The Christmas gifts include colorful and gay center-pieces with carolers, angels or elves surrounded by mistletoe, holly, or Christmas balls.

Among his "sweethearts" at the Infirmary are Mrs. Jeanette Lyons, who was 100 last August, Mrs. Mary P. Lindsay and Mrs. Jennie Ash, both of whom were 96 earlier this year.

Another of "Ike's" senior citizen friends is David Stewart, a patient at the Infirmary, who is 95 years old.

"Ike" is completing his 13th year as sick committee chairman, a 365-day job in the local council.

Kettle Drive Reaches $3556

Contributions toward the Salvation Army Christmas Cheer Fund reached $3556.93 last night when nearly $300 was turned in as a result of the efforts of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce.

Major Ben Jones, commanding officer, said Jaycees collected $295.37, manning kettles downtown and at Searstown. Nearly $1950 more is needed in four shopping days to reach the goal of $5500.

Cumberland Optimists will be on duty today, Cumberland Lions Saturday, Cumberland Kiwanis Monday and Lewis J. Ort and Major Jones on Christmas Eve. Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, brought in $160.63 when it manned the kettle on Baltimore Street Tuesday.

Members of the Salvation Army Advisory Board and Ali Ghan Shrine Temple wrecking crew will begin packing some 250 baskets Saturday at 1 p. m.

Yule Cantata Slated

The traditional Christmas cantata, "A King Is Given," will be presented on Monday at 10 p.m. at the Pinto Mennonite Church.

Man Decides To Work Out Shortage

A Philadelphia man, apparently overcome by qualms of conscience, gave himself up to authorities Wednesday night after first confessing theft of money from his former employer to a priest.

The man, James M. Ritchie, 38, came to the rectory of St. Patrick's Catholic Church at 7 p. m. and told a priest there that he wanted to give himself up.

Det. Kenneth Morrissey was called. After hearing the man's story of taking several hundred dollars and spending it on alcohol, he placed him in the city jail.

The man was released yesterday after Philadelphia police first reported they had no record of the theft and later that the victim would not prosecute.

Police here said they were advised the man planned to return to Philadelphia and "work out" the shortage in the establishment he managed.

Man Injures Hand Severely

A Fort Ashby, W. Va. man was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday afternoon after he sustained a severe injury to his left hand while at work.

The man, Olin Arbogast, 41, lost all the fingers on his hand when he caught his sand in a saw while at work as a carpenter. He underwent surgery after being admitted to the hospital.

Discussion On Prayer Continues

Finan, Rev. Murray In Disagreement

BALTIMORE (AP) — Debate over whether students may gather voluntarily for prayers in a Maryland public school waxed hotter Thursday.

Although Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan in an opinion Wednesday held unconstitutional prayers over a loudspeaker system after classes started in a Cumberland school, he said some program might be permissible.

"Either the attorney general was speaking with his tongue in his cheek, or he hasn't thought the thing through," fired back the Rev. Irving R. Murray, chairman of the Maryland branch of the American Civil Liberties Union.

"There's no such thing as voluntary prayer. Who's kidding whom?"

Finan retorted "I don't think the Rev. Murray has read the ruling."

Finan added "I fail to see where this ruling is going to infringe upon anyone's constitutional rights," the protection of which, he said, is the function of the civil liberties union.

Finan predicted that there will be some type of prayers for students at Fort Hill High School in Cumberland.

"There would be nothing wrong with a student organization, such as the Hi-Y, sponsoring the prayer as a project and asking the students to come five minutes early to pray."

The Rev. Mr. Murray also took issue with this. "Voluntary prayer would mean that every adult, including the janitor, would have to get out of the building," he said.

"There has just got to be supervision, so logically this rules out prayers."

The Supreme Court has ruled that there can be no praying or Bible reading in public schools which officials supervise or sanction.

Pre-Winter Cold Spell To Continue

New Season Arrives Sunday Morning

Winter will not officially arrive until Sunday at 9:02 a. m., but the frigid weather which moved in this week would be enough to convince anyone that it already has arrived.

The area experienced below-freezing temperatures earlier this week and a cold mass of Artic air moved in late Wednesday afternoon causing the mercury to drop sharply.

Many of the higher elevations have been receiving snow which has been giving this late fall season a winter touch.

Garrett County has 13 inches of snow on the ground and the emergency highway snow plan was placed into effect early yesterday morning by the State Police.

The State Roads Commission said last night all highways in Garrett County are covered and 22 men and 11 pieces of equipment were out plowing and applying chemicals and abrasives. Light snow was still falling last night and the temperature had dropped to four degrees above zero. The wind also was blowing last night making visability fair to poor in some sections.

In Allegany County last night, light snow was falling in the Frostburg area and roads west of Eckhart were slippery in spots. Temperatures in the county varied last night between five above at Frostburg to 12 degrees at the SRC office in LaVale.

Tucker County in West Virginia also has been hard-hit the past several days and that county has up to 14 inches of snow.

The Weather Bureau says there will be no letup today in the sub-freezing weather. The forecast calls for snow flurries in the mountains in Maryland with temperatures to range between 5-15 degrees.

The prediction for nearby West Virginia also calls for cloudy weather with snow flurries and the high for the day will be from 5 to 10 degrees.

Western Pennsylvania's forecast is for continued cloudy and cold with light snow. High is expected to be between zero and 10 above.

Zimmer Attends Educational Conferences

Dr. Robert S. Zimmer, president of Allegany Community College, attended a meeting of the advisory group to the Vocational Education Coordinator for the State of Maryland yesterday at the State Department of Education building in Baltimore.

James L. Reid, director of vocational education in Maryland and chairman of the meeting, led discussion on new federal legislation regarding technical and vocational education in the state.

Today, Dr. Zimmer will head the committee meeting on the proposed Associate Arts degree for Nursing to be given by junior colleges. The meeting will take place at Catonsville Community College, Catonsville.

The committee will discuss the development and promotion of the Associate degree in the nursing program in Maryland. This program will enable prospective nurses to complete college training in two years and qualify them to take the Registered Nurse state examination upon graduation. This program is rapidly increasing in junior colleges throughout the United States.

Representing the Maryland League for Nursing at the meeting will be Mrs. Virginia Conley, president of the Maryland League for Nursing; Miss Virginia Betzold, associate director of nursing at Johns Hopkins Hospital, and Sister Mary Damian, director of nursing at Mercy Hospital, Baltimore.

Guests will be Dr. Harold Reese, State Department of Education, and Mrs. Eleanor Zink, executive secretary of the State Board of Nursing Examiners.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Clingerman, Hyattsville, announce the birth of a son Tuesday in Providence Hospital, Washington. The mother is the former Anna Puffinburger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Clingerman, Hancock.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Brant Jr., RD 3, Gaithersburg, announce the birth of a son. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Anderson, RD 3, Cumberland. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James R. Brant St., 517 Forester Avenue.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Martin W. Johnson, Frostburg, a daughter Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. James F. Paulus, Oldtown, a daughter Wednesday.

Firemen Answer Call

LaVale Volunteer Firemen yesterday responded to a call on LaVale Terrace when a car owned by Donald Basilio caught fire. The call was received at 1:43 p. m. and 23 men responded.

Baptist Yule Play Tonight

"Christmas Carols in Pantomine," will be presented today at 7:30 p.m. at the Bedford Road Baptist Church by the Intermediate Training Union.

Mrs. Loring Boggs is director of the Intermediates and has designed and organized the program and costumes.

Those participating in the pantomine include Harry Bosley, Connie Hedrick, Shirley Cramer, Susan Gulick, Diana Dom, Bonnie Williams, Norma Hedrick, Jackie Simpson, Kathy Beck, Charles Cramer, Kenneth Cramer and Gary Simpson.

Mrs. Wood Simpson and Miss Suzanne Beck will be pianists and Mrs. Ralph Michael and Miss Juanita Prine the singers. Following the playlet, there will be a fellowship in the Educational Building. Sunday School members and guests and all those through Intermediate age will receive candy treats.

Fire Company To Hold Shooting Match Sunday

The Chaneysville Volunteer Fire Company will hold a shooting match inside Sunday at the fire hall starting at noon.

Turkeys and hams will be offered as prizes and 12 and 16 gauge shotguns will be used. Refreshments will be served by the ladies auxiliary.

Boats Listed In Directory

The Department of Tidewater Fisheries announces the sale of a seven-volume directory containing all of the boats registered under the Maryland Boating Act, said Joseph H. Manning, director.

Each boat is listed according to the boat number, name and address of the owner, type of power, length of boat, hull material and the year it was made.

Volume One covers Allegany, Carroll, Frederick, Garrett and Washington counties where a total of 1,775 boats are registered and the unit price is $8.88.

Mr. Manning said the volumes can be bought separately or as a complete set and may be obtained from The Department of Tidewater Fisheries, State Office Building, Annapolis, Md. Three per cent sales tax must be included by purchasers in Maryland.

Outside Expert Will Check State Colleges

BALTIMORE (AP) — An outside expert has been appointed by the State College Board of Trustees to make certain that the five state colleges under its jurisdiction are making progress in their change from teachers colleges to liberal arts institutions.

The board announced Thursday that Dr. Winton Tolles, dean of Hamilton College in New York, will visit each of the five Maryland colleges before Feb. 26 to review the academic program.

"We want to see where we are and where we want to go," said Comer S. Coppie, executive director of the board.

No Christmas Rush Here

William Oburn Elected Head Of Chamber

1964 Objectives Are Set Forth

William H. Oburn, vice president of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, yesterday was elected president of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

Other officers, elected during a luncheon meeting held yesterday, are:

Walter E. Dyck, manager of Works 7 of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, vice president; Carl O. Belt, president of Carl O. Belt, Inc., re-elected treasurer, and William L. Wilson, retiring president, automatically became a member of the Executive committee.

The Executive committee, which handles business between scheduled board meetings, will consist of Mr. Wilson, Mr. Oburn, Mr. Belt and Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Chamber.

Outlines Program

William Jenkins, Garland L. Johnston, Harry Kauffman, Francis A. Kenney, Lynn C. Lashley, Samuel Moses, W. Fred Mowen, Earl Nonnenman, C. M. Sanner, Hugh Shires, Miles Thompson, John R. Wilkinson, John Wilson and George M. Young.

Following the election, Mr. Wilson briefed directors on the highlights of his year as president and thanked members for their cooperation in the programs.

The newly elected president, Mr. Oburn, outlined major projects of the Chamber during the coming year.

Included was dam and road development, the Bloomington Dam, Rocky Gap State Park, Route 40 and the Appalachian Thruway.

He said the organization will also support zoning programs, urban renewal, a county charter study, economic education, Business Education Day, the Teacher recognition program and a study of possible additions to the area's education facilities in the technical and vocational fields.

Mr. Oburn said he plans soon to appoint chairmen for the various standing committees of the Chamber.

Plans Appointments

Present committee chairmen include Miles T. Thompson, annual dinner; A. H. Wilson, area resources and development; Carl O. Belt, budget and finance; William A. Howard, business education; John E. Geare, civic affairs; C. M. Sanner, legislative; Francis A. Kenney, roads, and Arthur Friedland, Downtown Cumberland Merchants Association.

During the session, Mr. Kenney briefed directors on the progress of the Cumberland Thruway and the proposed Appalachian Thruway.

The legislative committee, Mr. Sanner reported, has prepared a window display which will be kept up to date for use in the Chamber of Commerce windows.

"Shut-Ins" To Receive Presents

For the past 13 years Raymond "Ike" Law, left, has been sick committee chairman for Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, and a highlight of his work is the Christmas time visit to "shut-ins" at the Allegany County Infirmary and Home and to the homes of members of the council. Val Lydinger, right, grand knight of the council, is handing one of the many gifts to 'Ike' and is asking him to extend seasons greetings from the council to the "shut-ins."

Zoning Board Is Considering Three Appeals

Involve Business, Used Car Lots

Appeals to use a site in the 800 block of Frederick Street for business use and applications to locate two used car lots here were taken under advisement by the Zoning Board of Appeals.

The first appeal involved the application of George Posselt, 1220 Frederick Street, to use Lots 49-53 on Frederick Street, for business use.

Mr. Posselt said he planned to erect a brick building on the lot and to use it for his upholstery business, saying the building would improve the lot and be an asset to the area.

A number of residents of the area opposed the permit on grounds they were opposed to any further commercialization of the street.

Norbert A. Sell, 1154 Frederick Street, stressed there was nothing personal in his opposition but that he felt the location of a business there would be the first move toward commercialization of the street, which will revert to true residential use when the Cumberland Thruway takes Route 220 traffic off the street.

Doyle W. Andrews, 724 Frederick Street, presented a petition signed by residents of the area opposing the location of a business. He said residents are opposed to any change which lead to business or commercial zoning of the area.

The board promised to take all evidence into consideration before making its recommendation to the Mayor and Council.

Also heard was an appeal by Paul Steinla, manager of Hare Motor Sales, Orchard and Williams Street, to use a lot at the corner of South Mechanic and Williams Street as a used car lot.

Mr. Steinla said the firm must move from its present location and that he understood the location would be only temporary, as the land will be needed for the Cumberland Thruway.

His appeal and a similar one from Dennis W. Bobo Sr., who related plans to locate a used car lot at 501 Henderson Avenue on a lot formerly used as a gas station, were taken under advisement.

The board promised to make recommendations to the Mayor and Council after investigating the applications for the used car lots.

'Ike' Law To Play Santa At Two Institutions Here

On Sunday and Monday, Raymond "Ike" Law, genial sick committee chairman of Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, will be spreading Christmas cheer with his broad, friendly smile among at least 150 senior citizen "shut-ins" of Cumberland and Allegany County.

During the past week "Ike" has been procuring Christmas gifts and corsages and arranging an appropriate holiday program which will be presented on Sunday afternoon at the County Infirmary.

The Christmas program will include dancing numbers by Dixon Studio pupils and music on the solavox by Mrs. Minnie Shaw.

On Monday he will visit the County Home and will chat with other "shut-ins" including council members prior to Christmas Day.

Two Gray Ladies of the Red Cross will accompany "Ike" to the county institutions and assist him in distributing corsages and a confection to the ladies and smokes and tobacco to the men folk.

The Christmas gifts include colorful and gay center-pieces with carolers, angels or elves surrounded by mistletoe, holly, or Christmas balls.

Among his "sweethearts" at the Infirmary are Mrs. Jeanette Lyons, who was 100 last August, Mrs. Mary P. Lindsay and Mrs. Jennie Ash, both of whom were 96 earlier this year.

Another of "Ike's" senior citizen friends is David Stewart, a patient at the Infirmary, who is 95 years old.

"Ike" is completing his 13th year as sick committee chairman, a 365-day job in the local council.

Kettle Drive Reaches $3556

Contributions toward the Salvation Army Christmas Cheer Fund reached $3556.93 last night when nearly $300 was turned in as a result of the efforts of the Cumberland Junior Association of Commerce.

Major Ben Jones, commanding officer, said Jaycees collected $295.37, manning kettles downtown and at Searstown. Nearly $1950 more is needed in four shopping days to reach the goal of $5500.

Cumberland Optimists will be on duty today, Cumberland Lions Saturday, Cumberland Kiwanis Monday and Lewis J. Ort and Major Jones on Christmas Eve. Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, brought in $160.63 when it manned the kettle on Baltimore Street Tuesday.

Members of the Salvation Army Advisory Board and Ali Ghan Shrine Temple wrecking crew will begin packing some 250 baskets Saturday at 1 p. m.

Yule Cantata Slated

Man Decides To Work Out Shortage

A Philadelphia man, apparently overcome by qualms of conscience, gave himself up to authorities Wednesday night after first confessing theft of money from his former employer to a priest.

The man, James M. Ritchie, 38, came to the rectory of St. Patrick's Catholic Church at 7 p. m. and told a priest there that he wanted to give himself up.

Det. Kenneth Morrissey was called. After hearing the man's story of taking several hundred dollars and spending it on alcohol, he placed him in the city jail.

The man was released yesterday after Philadelphia police first reported they had no record of the theft and later that the victim would not prosecute.

Police here said they were advised the man planned to return to Philadelphia and "work out" the shortage in the establishment he managed.

Man Injures Hand Severely

A Fort Ashby, W. Va. man was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday afternoon after he sustained a severe injury to his left hand while at work.

The man, Olin Arbogast, 41, lost all the fingers on his hand when he caught his sand in a saw while at work as a carpenter. He underwent surgery after being admitted to the hospital.

Discussion On Prayer Continues

Finan, Rev. Murray In Disagreement

BALTIMORE (AP) — Debate over whether students may gather voluntarily for prayers in a Maryland public school waxed hotter Thursday.

Although Atty. Gen. Thomas B. Finan in an opinion Wednesday held unconstitutional prayers over a loudspeaker system after classes started in a Cumberland school, he said some program might be permissible.

"Either the attorney general was speaking with his tongue in his cheek, or he hasn't thought the thing through," fired back the Rev. Irving R. Murray, chairman of the Maryland branch of the American Civil Liberties Union.

"There's no such thing as voluntary prayer. Who's kidding whom?"

Finan retorted "I don't think the Rev. Murray has read the ruling."

Finan added "I fail to see where this ruling is going to infringe upon anyone's constitutional rights," the protection of which, he said, is the function of the civil liberties union.

Finan predicted that there will be some type of prayers for students at Fort Hill High School in Cumberland.

"There would be nothing wrong with a student organization, such as the Hi-Y, sponsoring the prayer as a project and asking the students to come five minutes early to pray."

The Rev. Mr. Murray also took issue with this. "Voluntary prayer would mean that every adult, including the janitor, would have to get out of the building," he said.

"There has just got to be supervision, so logically this rules out prayers."

The Supreme Court has ruled that there can be no praying or Bible reading in public schools which officials supervise or sanction.
